Reviewer alert

August 2020

Dear Peer Reviewers,

We are pleased to report that as part of its continuing response to ease the burden of the coronavirus pandemic on peer reviewers and enrolled firms, the AICPA Peer Review Board (PRB) voted in a special session on August 20, 2020 to extend remote system reviews for CPA firms without approval from the administering entity for reviews commencing on or before June 30, 2021. The PRB had previously waived the requirement that firms obtain prior approval to perform a system review off-site through Sept. 30 of this year.

We continue to strongly encourage immediate contact so firms can get their reviews booked for mutually available times with your schedules. As you know, firms that wait to schedule their reviews may have problems down the road because your firms have also been impacted by the pandemic. If you have not been in touch with your impacted peer review clients, please reach out to them and have them schedule their reviews in PRIMA.

If you have any questions, please email prsupport@aicpa.org.

Sincerely,

The Peer Review Team
