

Agenda Item 5C

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
1.	1. This standard establishes requirements regarding the auditor's evaluation of a company's identification of, accounting for, and disclosure of relationships and transactions between the company and its related parties.1/	1. This section addresses the auditor's responsibilities relating to related party relationships and transactions in an audit of financial statements. Specifically, it expands on how section 315 Understanding the Entity and Its Environment and Assessing the Risks of Material Misstatement, section 330, Performing Audit Procedures in Response to Assessed Risks and Evaluating the Audit Evidence Obtained and section 240, Consideration of Fraud in a Financial Statement Audit are to be applied regarding risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions.	The requirements are equivalent.
2.	1/ The auditor should look to the requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for the company under audit with respect to the accounting principles applicable to that company, including the definition of the term "related	10. For purposes of GAAS, the following terms have the meanings attributed as follows: arm's length transaction. A transaction conducted on such terms and conditions as between a willing buyer and a willing seller	No incremental requirements.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	parties" and the financial statement disclosure requirements with respect to related parties.	who are unrelated and are acting independently of each other and pursuing their own best interests. related party. A party defined as a related party in GAAP. (Ref: par. A1) .A1 GAAP frameworks include or refer to specific disclosure requirements for related party relationships and transactions. If the applicable financial reporting framework does not have specific disclosure requirements, the auditor, nonetheless, evaluates whether related party information is disclosed in a manner comparable to GAAP in order for the financial statements to achieve fair presentation.
3.	2. The objective of the auditor is to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to determine whether related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties have been properly identified, accounted for, and disclosed in the financial statements. 2/ 2/ See, e.g., paragraphs 30-31 of Auditing Standard No. 14, Evaluating Audit Results. See also paragraph .04 of AU sec. 411, The Meaning of Present Fairly in Conformity With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.	9. The objectives of the auditor are: (a) to obtain an understanding of related party relationships and transactions sufficient to be able to (i) recognize fraud risk factors, if any, arising from related party relationships and transactions that are relevant to the identification and assessment of the risks of material misstatement due to fraud. (ii) conclude, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether the financial statements, insofar as they are affected by those relationships and transactions achieve fair presentation ; and (b) obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about whether related party relationships and transactions have been	AU-C 550 objective is more detailed.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		appropriately identified, accounted for, and disclosed in the financial statements .
4.	3. The auditor should perform procedures to obtain an understanding of the company's relationships and transactions with its related parties that might reasonably be expected to affect the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements in conjunction with performing risk assessment procedures in accordance with Auditing Standard No. 12, Identifying and Assessing Risks of Material Misstatement. The procedures performed to obtain an understanding of the company's relationships and transactions with its related parties include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Obtaining an understanding of the company's process (paragraph 4); b. Performing inquiries (paragraphs 5-7); and c. Communicating with the audit engagement team and other auditors (paragraphs 8-9). 	12. As part of the risk assessment procedures and related activities that section 240 and section 315 require the auditor to perform during the audit, the auditor should perform the audit procedures and related activities set out in paragraphs 13-18 to obtain information relevant to identifying the risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions.
5.	Note: Obtaining an understanding of the company's relationships and transactions with its related parties includes obtaining an understanding of the nature of the relationships between the company and its related parties and of the terms and business purposes (or the lack thereof) of the transactions involving related parties.	AU-C 550.14 requires the auditor to inquire of management regarding the nature of the relationships between the entity and related parties. c.. Whether the entity entered into any transactions with these related parties	AU-C 550 uses the words “type and purpose” instead of “terms and business purpose”. Not a performance difference.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		during the period and, if so, the type and purpose of the transactions
6.	Note: Performing the risk assessment procedures described in paragraphs 4-9 of this standard in conjunction with the risk assessment procedures required by Auditing Standard No. 12 is intended to provide the auditor with a reasonable basis for identifying and assessing risks of material misstatement associated with related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties.	.12 As part of the risk assessment procedures and related activities that section 240 and section 315 require the auditor to perform during the audit, the auditor should perform the audit procedures and related activities set out in paragraphs .13-.18 to obtain information relevant to identifying the risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions. fn 7 fn 8	This “Note” simply indicates the intent of the paragraph.
7.	4. In conjunction with obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, the auditor should obtain an understanding of the company's process for: ^{3/} a. Identifying related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties; b. Authorizing and approving transactions with related parties; and c. Accounting for and disclosing relationships and transactions with related parties in the financial statements.	15. The auditor should inquire of management and others within the entity and perform other risk assessment procedures considered appropriate to obtain an understanding of the controls, if any, that management has established to (Ref: Para. A15-A20) a. identify, account for, and disclose related party relationships and transactions. b. authorize and approve significant transactions and arrangements with related parties. (Ref: Para. A21)	Any performance difference is appropriate for issuers vs nonissuers.

^{fn 7} Paragraph .16 of section 240.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	3/ See, e.g., paragraph 18 of Auditing Standard No. 12 which requires the auditor to obtain a sufficient understanding of each component of internal control over financial reporting to (a) identify the types of potential misstatements, (b) assess the factors that affect the risks of material misstatement, and (c) design further audit procedures. See also paragraph 20 of Auditing Standard No. 12, which states that obtaining an understanding of internal control includes evaluating the design of controls that are relevant to the audit and determining whether the controls have been implemented.	c. authorize and approve significant transactions and arrangements outside the normal course of business.
8.	5. The auditor should inquire of management regarding:^{4/} <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The names of the company’s related parties during the period under audit, including changes from the prior period; b. Background information concerning the related parties (for example, physical location, industry, size, and extent of operations); c. The nature of any relationships, including ownership structure, between the company and its related parties; d. The transactions entered into, modified, or terminated, with its related parties during the period under audit and the terms and business purposes (or the lack thereof) of such transactions; 	14. The auditor should inquire of management and others within the entity regarding the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The identity of the entity’s related parties, including changes from the prior period (Ref: Para. A9-A14) b. The nature of the relationships (including ownership structure) between the entity and these related parties c. The business purpose of entering into a transaction with a related party versus an unrelated party (c) Whether the entity entered into, modified, or terminated any transactions with these related parties during the period and, if so, the type and business purpose of the transactions. 	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	e. The business purpose for entering into a transaction with a related party versus an unrelated party; f. Any related party transactions that have not been authorized and approved in accordance with the company’s established policies or procedures regarding the authorization and approval of transactions with related parties; and g. Any related party transactions for which exceptions to the company's established policies or procedures were granted and the reasons for granting those exceptions. 4/ See also AU sec. 333, Management Representations. Obtaining such representations from management complements the performance of procedures in paragraph 5 and is not a substitution for those inquiries.	.A14 The inquiry about the identity of the entity’s related parties may include background information concerning the related parties, for example, physical location, industry, size, and extent of operations. .15 The auditor should inquire of management and others within the entity and perform other risk assessment procedures^{fn 11} considered appropriate to obtain an understanding of the controls, if any, that management has established to (Ref: par. .A15–A20.A16–A21) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. identify, account for, and disclose related party relationships and transactions. b. authorize and approve significant transactions and arrangements with related parties. (Ref: par. .A21A22) c. authorize and approve significant unusual transactions and arrangements outside the normal course of business

^{fn 11} Paragraph .06 of section 315.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		Inquiries should include asking about any related party transactions a. that have not been authorized and approved in accordance with the company's established policies or procedures regarding the authorization and approval of transactions with related parties. b. for which exceptions to the entity's established policies or procedures were granted and the reasons for granting those exceptions. (Ref.: par. .A43-.A44)
9.	6. The auditor should inquire of others within the company regarding their knowledge of the matters in paragraph 5 of this standard. The auditor should identify others within the company^{5/} to whom inquiries should be directed, and determine the extent of such inquires, by considering whether such individuals are likely to have knowledge regarding: a. The company's related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties; b. The company's controls over relationships or transactions with related parties; and c. The existence of related parties or relationships or transactions with related	A1516. Others within the entity are those considered likely to have knowledge of the entity's related party relationships and transactions and the entity's controls over such relationships and transactions, as well as the existence of related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties previously undisclosed to the auditor, and whether such relationships or transactions were with known or previously unknown related parties. These may include, to the extent that they do not form part of management, the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Those charged with governance • Personnel in a position to initiate, authorize, process, or record 	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	parties previously undisclosed to the auditor. 6/ 5/ Examples of "others" within the company who may have such knowledge include: personnel in a position to initiate, process, or record transactions with related parties and those who supervise or monitor such personnel; internal auditors; in-house legal counsel; the chief compliance/ethics officer or person in equivalent position; and the human resources director or person in equivalent position. 6/ For purposes of this standard, the phrase "related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties previously undisclosed to the auditor" includes, to the extent not disclosed to the auditor by management: (1) related parties; (2) relationships or transactions with known related parties; and (3) relationships or transactions with previously unknown related parties.	significant unusual transactions that are both significant and outside the entity's normal course of business and those who supervise or monitor such personnel <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The internal audit function • In-house legal counsel • The chief ethics officer or equivalent person • Chief compliance officer • The human resources director or equivalent person A16 A17. The audit is conducted on the premise that management and, when appropriate, those charged with governance have acknowledged and understand that they have responsibility for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.⁵ Accordingly the preparation of the financial statements requires management, with oversight from those charged with governance, to design, implement and maintain adequate controls over related party relationships and

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		transactions so that these are identified and appropriately accounted for and disclosed . In their oversight role, those charged with governance monitor how management is discharging its responsibility for such controls. Those charged with governance may, in their oversight role, obtain information from management to enable them to understand the nature and business rational purpose of the entity's related party relationships and transactions.
10.	7. The auditor should inquire of the audit committee,^{7/} or its chair, regarding: a. The audit committee's understanding of the company's relationships and transactions with related parties that are significant to the company; and b. Whether any member of the audit committee has concerns regarding relationships or transactions with related parties and, if so, the substance of those concerns. 7/ The term "audit committee" has the same meaning as the term used in Auditing Standard No. 16, Communications with Audit Committees.	16. Unless all of those charged with governance are involved in managing the entity, the auditor should inquire of those charged with governance (or the audit committee or, at least, its chair) regarding a. their understanding of the company's relationships and transactions with related parties that are significant to the company; and b. whether any of those charged with governance have concerns regarding relationships or transactions with related parties and, if so, the substance of those concerns.	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
11.	8. The auditor should communicate to engagement team members relevant information about related parties, including the names of the related parties and the nature of the company's relationships and transactions with those related parties. 8/ 8/ This communication, which can be more effective when it occurs at an early stage of the audit, complements the discussion among engagement team members regarding risks of material misstatement in accordance with paragraph 49 of Auditing Standard No. 12. See also, paragraph 5 of Auditing Standard No. 10, Supervision of the Audit Engagement, which establishes requirements regarding supervision of the engagement team members, including directing engagement team members to bring significant accounting and auditing issues arising during the audit to the attention of the engagement partner or other engagement team members performing supervisory activities.	18. The auditor should share with the other members of the engagement team the identity of the entity's related parties and other relevant information obtained about the related parties. (Ref: Para. A29-A30) .13 In connection with the engagement team discussion(s) that section 240 and section 315 require, the auditor should include specific consideration of the susceptibility of the financial statements to material misstatement due to fraud or error that could result from the entity's related party relationships and transactions.	The requirements are equivalent.
12.	9. If the auditor is using the work of another auditor, the auditor should communicate to the other auditor relevant information about related parties, including the names of the company's related parties and the nature of the company's relationships and transactions with those related parties.9/ The auditor also should inquire of the other auditor regarding	A11. In the context of a group audit, section 600, Special Considerations - Audits of Group Financial Statements (Including the Work of Component Auditors) requires the group engagement team to provide each component auditor with a list of information about related parties prepared by group management and any other related	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	the other auditor's knowledge of any related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties that were not included in the auditor's communications. 9/ See AU sec. 543, Part of Audit Performed by Other Independent Auditors, which describes the auditor's responsibilities regarding using the work and reports of other independent auditors who audit the financial statements of one or more subsidiaries, divisions, branches, components, or investments included in the financial statements.	parties of which the group engagement team is aware. Where the entity is a component within a group, this information provides a useful basis for the auditor's inquiries of management regarding the identity of the entity's related parties. AU-C 600.41 The group engagement team should communicate its requirements to a component auditor on a timely basis. This communication should include the following: ... c. A list of related parties prepared by group management and any other related parties of which the group engagement team is aware, including the nature of the company's relationships and transactions with those related parties. The group engagement team should request the component auditor to communicate on a timely basis related parties not previously identified by group management or the group engagement team. The group engagement team should

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		identify such additional related parties to other component auditors.
13.	10. The auditor should identify and assess the risks of material misstatement at the financial statement level and the assertion level.10/ This includes identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement associated with related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties, including whether the company has properly identified, accounted for, and disclosed its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties.	1921. In meeting the requirement of section 315 to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, the auditor should identify and assess the risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions and determine whether any of those risks are significant risks. In making this determination, the auditor should treat identified significant unusual related party transactions outside the entity's normal course of business as giving rise to significant risks.	Amendment proposed
14.	Note: In identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement associated with related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties, the auditor should take into account the information obtained from performing the procedures in paragraphs 4-9 of this standard and from performing the risk assessment procedures required by Auditing Standard No. 12. 10/ See paragraph 59 of Auditing Standard No. 12.	N/A	This "Note" does not add requirements.
15.		20. If the auditor identifies fraud risk factors (including circumstances relating to the existence of a related party with dominant

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		influence) when performing the risk assessment procedures and related activities in connection with related parties, the auditor should consider such information when identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement due to fraud in accordance with section 240. (Ref: Para. A31-A33)
16.	11. The auditor must design and implement audit responses that address the identified and assessed risks of material misstatement.11/ This includes designing and performing audit procedures in a manner that addresses the risks of material misstatement associated with related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties.12/ 11/ See paragraph 3 of Auditing Standard No. 13, The Auditor's Responses to the Risks of Material Misstatement. 12/ See generally, Auditing Standard No. 13 and paragraph 17 of Auditing Standard No. 15, Audit Evidence, which provides that inquiry of company personnel, by itself, does not provide sufficient audit evidence to reduce audit risk to an appropriately low level for a relevant assertion or to support a conclusion about the effectiveness of a control.	21. As part of the requirement in section 330 that the auditor respond to assessed risks, the auditor should design and perform further audit procedures to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about the assessed risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions. (Ref: Para. A34-A37)	Similar guidance.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
17.	Note: The auditor also should look to the requirements in paragraphs .66-.67A of AU sec. 316, Consideration of Fraud in a Financial Statement Audit, for related party transactions that are also significant unusual transactions (for example, significant related party transactions outside the normal course of business). For such related party transactions, AU sec. 316.67 requires that the auditor evaluate whether the business purpose (or the lack thereof) of the transactions indicates that the transactions may have been entered into to engage in fraudulent financial reporting or conceal misappropriation of assets.	17. The auditor should evaluate whether the entity has properly identified its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties. If the auditor identifies significant transactions outside the entity’s normal course of business when performing the audit procedures required by paragraph 16 or through other audit procedures, the auditor should inquire of management about the following: (Ref: Para. A25-A26) a. The nature of these transactions (Ref: Para. A27) b. Whether related parties could be involved. (Ref: Para. A28) .A27 Inquiring into the nature of the significant transactions outside the entity’s normal course of business involves obtaining an understanding of the business rational purpose of the transactions and the terms and conditions under which these have been entered into. AU-C 240.32c	PCAOB requirement in red is in GAAS in AU-C 240.32c. Proposed amendment to converge language
18.	12. For each related party transaction that is either required to be disclosed in the financial statements or determined to be a significant risk, the auditor should: a. Read the underlying documentation and evaluate whether the terms and other information about the transaction are consistent with explanations from inquiries and other audit evidence about the business	2426. For identified significant unusual each related party transactions outside the entity’s normal course of business that is either required to be disclosed in the financial statements or determined to be a significant risk, the auditor should a. inspect read the underlying contracts or agreements, if any, and evaluate whether i. the business rational purpose (or lack thereof) of the transactions suggests that	Amendment proposed The incremental explicit requirements in AS 18 are either in application material in AU-C 550 or would be performed as a result of requirements elsewhere in GAAS.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	purpose (or the lack thereof) of the transaction; b. Determine whether the transaction has been authorized and approved in accordance with the company’s established policies and procedures regarding the authorization and approval of transactions with related parties; c. Determine whether any exceptions to the company's established policies or procedures were granted;^{13/} d. Evaluate the financial capability of the related parties with respect to significant uncollected balances, loan commitments, supply arrangements, guarantees, and other obligations, if any;^{14/} and e. Perform other procedures as necessary to address the identified and assessed risks of material misstatement. 13/ Information gathered while obtaining an understanding of the company also might assist the auditor in identifying agreements prohibiting or restricting related party transactions (for example, loans or advances to related parties). 14/ Examples of information that might be relevant to the auditor's evaluation of a related party’s financial capability include, among	they may have been entered into to engage in fraudulent financial reporting or to conceal misappropriation of assets. ii. the terms of the transactions are consistent with management’s explanations. iii. the transactions have been appropriately accounted for and disclosed. b. obtain audit evidence that the transactions have been appropriately authorized and approved. A22. During the audit, the auditor may inspect records or documents that indicate the existence of related party relationships or transactions that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • third party confirmations obtained by the auditor (in addition to bank and legal confirmations). • entity income tax returns. • information supplied by the entity to regulatory authorities. • shareholder registers to identify the entity’s principal shareholders. • statements of conflicts of interest from management and those charged with governance. • records of the entity’s investments and those of its benefit plans.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	other things, the audited financial statements of the related party, reports issued by regulatory agencies, financial publications, and income tax returns of the related party, to the extent available.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • contracts and agreements with key management or those charged with governance. • significant contracts and agreements not in the entity's ordinary course of business. • specific invoices and correspondence from the entity's professional advisors. • life insurance policies acquired by the entity. • significant contracts renegotiated by the entity during the period. • internal auditors' reports. • capital financing arrangements with entities other than financial institutions (for example, construction of a government entity facility associated with the issuance of debt by a related not-for-profit entity). • economic development arrangements for capital additions (for example, a governmental entity's use and eventual ownership of properties and facilities financed and operated by a company or another governmental entity). A33. In the presence of other risk factors, the existence of a related party with

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		dominant influence may indicate significant risks of material misstatement due to fraud. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • an unusually high turnover of senior management or professional advisors may suggest unethical or fraudulent business practices that serve the related party's purposes. • the use of business intermediaries for significant transactions for which there appears to be no clear business justification may suggest that the related party could have an interest in such transactions through control of such intermediaries for fraudulent purposes. Evidence of the related party's excessive participation in, or preoccupation with, the selection of accounting policies or the determination of significant estimates may suggest the possibility of fraudulent financial reporting. A34. The nature, timing and extent of the further audit procedures that the auditor may select to respond to the assessed risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions depend upon the nature of those risks and the circumstances of the entity

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
19.	Note: The applicable financial reporting framework may allow the aggregation of similar related party transactions for disclosure purposes. If the company has aggregated related party transactions for disclosure purposes in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework, the auditor may perform the procedures in paragraph 12 for only a selection of transactions from each aggregation of related party transactions (versus all transactions in the aggregation), commensurate with the risks of material misstatement.	A35. Examples of substantive audit procedures that the auditor may perform when the auditor has assessed a significant risk that management has not appropriately accounted for or disclosed specific related party transactions (whether due to fraud or error) include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Confirming the business purposes, specific terms, or amounts of the transactions with the related parties (this audit procedure may be less effective where the auditor judges that the entity is likely to influence the related parties in their responses to the auditor). • Inspecting evidence in possession of the other party or parties to the transaction. • Confirming or discussing significant information with intermediaries, such as banks, guarantors, agents, or attorneys, to obtain a better understanding of the transaction. • Referring to financial publications, trade journals, credit agencies, and other information sources when there is reason to believe that unfamiliar customers, suppliers, or other business enterprises with which material amounts of business 	Incremental guidance not in AU-C 550. Proposed amendment to converge language

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		have been transacted may lack substance. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> With respect to material uncollected balances, guarantees, and other obligations, obtaining evaluating information about the financial capability of the other party or parties to the transaction. Such information may be obtained from audited financial statements, unaudited financial statements, income tax returns, and reports issued by regulatory agencies, taxing authorities, financial publications, or credit agencies.
20.	13. The auditor should perform procedures on intercompany account balances as of concurrent dates, even if fiscal years of the respective companies differ. Note: The procedures performed should address the risks of material misstatement associated with the company's intercompany accounts.	.18-23 The auditor should perform procedures on account balances with affiliated entities as of concurrent dates, even if fiscal years of the respective entities differ. The procedures performed should address the risks of material misstatement associated with the entity's accounts with affiliates.	Amendment proposed
21.	14. The auditor should evaluate whether the company has properly identified its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties. Evaluating whether a company has properly identified its related	.1617 The auditor should evaluate whether the entity has properly identified its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties. During the audit, the auditor should remain alert	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	parties and relationships and transactions with related parties involves more than assessing the process used by the company. This evaluation requires the auditor to perform procedures to test the accuracy and completeness of the related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties identified by the company, taking into account the information gathered during the audit. 15/ As part of this evaluation, the auditor should read minutes of the meetings of stockholders, directors, and committees of directors, or summaries of actions of recent meetings for which minutes have not yet been prepared. 15/ Information obtained from identifying and evaluating a company's significant unusual transactions and obtaining an understanding of a company's financial relationships and transactions with its executive officers could indicate that related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties previously undisclosed to the auditor might exist.	when inspecting records or documents for arrangements or other information that may indicate the existence of related party relationships or transactions that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor. In particular, the auditor should inspect the following for indications of related party relationships or transactions that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Bank and legal confirmations obtained as part of the auditor's procedures b. Minutes of meetings of shareholders and of those charged with governance and summaries of actions of recent meetings for which minutes have not yet been prepared c. Such other records or documents as the auditor considers necessary in the circumstances of the entity. .17-19.18 If the auditor identifies significant unusual transactions outside the entity's normal course of business when performing the audit procedures required by paragraph .17 or through other audit procedures, the auditor should inquire of management about the following:...

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		.2123 As part of the requirement in section 330 that the auditor respond to assessed risks, the auditor should evaluate whether the company has properly identified its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties. The auditor should design and perform further audit procedures to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about the assessed risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions, including procedures to test the accuracy and completeness of the related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties identified by the company, taking into account the information gathered during the audit.^{fn 14} (Ref: par. .A34–.A37–.A35–.A38) Maintaining Alertness for Evaluating Accuracy and Completeness of Related Party Information When Reviewing Records or Documents

^{fn 14} Paragraphs .05–.06 of section 330, Performing Audit Procedures in Response to Assessed Risks and Evaluating the Audit Evidence Obtained.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
		Records or Documents That the Auditor May Inspect (Ref: par. .16) .A3435A3422A Evaluating whether an entity has properly identified its related parties and relationships and transactions with related parties involves more than assessing the process used by the entity. A36 The nature, timing, and extent of the further audit procedures that the auditor may select to respond to the assessed risks of material misstatement associated with related party relationships and transactions depend upon the nature of those risks and the circumstances of the entity.
22.	Note: Appendix A contains examples of information and sources of information that may be gathered during the audit that could indicate that related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties previously undisclosed to the auditor might exist.		This PCAOB “Note” does not add any requirements but simply provides a reference to additional guidance.
23.	15. If the auditor identifies information that indicates that related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties previously undisclosed to the auditor might exist, the auditor should perform the procedures necessary to determine whether	22. If the auditor identifies arrangements or information that suggests the existence of related party relationships or transactions that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor, the auditor should determine whether the	The requirements are equivalent.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	previously undisclosed relationships or transactions with related parties, in fact, exist.^{16/} These procedures should extend beyond inquiry of management. 16/ See paragraph 29 of Auditing Standard No. 15, which states that if audit evidence obtained from one source is inconsistent with that obtained from another, or if the auditor has doubts about the reliability of information to be used as audit evidence, the auditor should perform the audit procedures necessary to resolve the matter and should determine the effect, if any, on other aspects of the audit.	underlying circumstances confirm the existence of those relationships or transactions.
24.	16. If the auditor determines that a related party or relationship or transaction with a related party previously undisclosed to the auditor exists, the auditor should: 17/ See AU sec. 333.04, which states that if a representation made by management is contradicted by other audit evidence, the auditor should investigate the circumstances and consider the reliability of the representation made. Based on the circumstances, the auditor should consider whether his or her reliance on management's	23. If the auditor identifies related parties or significant related party transactions that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor, the auditor should	A “presumption of fraud” exists in an issuer when an RPT is undisclosed that is not necessarily the case in a non-issuer.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	representations relating to other aspects of the financial statements is appropriate and justified. 18/ See paragraph 74 of Auditing Standard No. 12, which states that when the auditor obtains audit evidence during the course of the audit that contradicts the audit evidence on which the auditor originally based his or her risk assessment, the auditor should revise the risk assessment and modify planned audit procedures or perform additional procedures in response to the revised risk assessments.
25.	a. Inquire of management regarding the existence of the related party or relationship or transaction with a related party previously undisclosed to the auditor and the possible existence of other transactions with the related party previously undisclosed to the auditor;	b. request management to identify all transactions with the newly identified related parties for the auditor's further evaluation.	The requirements are equivalent.
26.	b. Evaluate why the related party or relationship or transaction with a related party was previously undisclosed to the auditor;17/	c. inquire why the entity's controls over related party relationships and transactions failed to enable the identification or disclosure of the related party relationships or transactions.	No performance difference between the two requirements.
27.	c. Promptly communicate to appropriate members of the engagement team and other auditors participating in the audit	a. promptly communicate the relevant information to the other members of the engagement team. (Ref: Para. A29 and A38)	The requirements are equivalent.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	engagement relevant information about the related party or relationship or transaction with the related party;
28.	d. Assess the need to perform additional procedures to identify other relationships or transactions with the related party previously undisclosed to the auditor;	e. reconsider the risk that other related parties or significant related party transactions may exist that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor, and perform additional audit procedures as necessary.	The requirements are equivalent.
29.	e. Perform the procedures required by paragraph 12 of this standard for each related party transaction previously undisclosed to the auditor that is required to be disclosed in the financial statements or determined to be a significant risk;	d. perform appropriate substantive audit procedures relating to such newly identified related parties or significant related party transactions. (Ref: Para. A39)	The requirements are equivalent.
30.	f. Perform the following procedures, taking into account the information gathered from performing the procedures a. through e. above: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. Evaluate the implications on the auditor's assessment of internal control over financial reporting, if applicable; ii. Reassess the risk of material misstatement and perform additional procedures as necessary if such reassessment results in a higher risk; 18/ and 	e. reconsider the risk that other related parties or significant related party transactions may exist that management has not previously identified or disclosed to the auditor, and perform additional audit procedures as necessary f. evaluate the implications for the audit if the nondisclosure by management appears intentional (and therefore, indicative of a risk of material misstatement due to fraud). (Ref: Para. A40)	The PCAOB standards more explicitly identify considerations (e.g., reassess control risk, reassess risk of material misstatement).

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	iii. Evaluate the implications for the audit if management's nondisclosure to the auditor of a related party or relationship or transaction with a related party indicates that fraud or an illegal act may have occurred. If the auditor becomes aware of information indicating that fraud or another illegal act has occurred or might have occurred, the auditor must determine his or her responsibilities under AU secs. 316.79-.82, AU sec. 317, Illegal Acts by Clients, and Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. §78j-1(b).	A40. The requirements and guidance in section 240 regarding the auditor's responsibilities relating to fraud in an audit of financial statements are relevant when management appears to have intentionally failed to disclose related parties or significant related party transactions to the auditor.
31.	17. The auditor must evaluate whether related party transactions have been properly accounted for and disclosed in the financial statements. This includes evaluating whether the financial statements contain the information regarding relationships and transactions with related parties essential for a fair presentation in conformity with the applicable financial reporting framework.19/ 19/ See paragraphs 30-31 of Auditing Standard No. 14.	26. In forming an opinion on the financial statements in accordance with section 700, the auditor should evaluate the following: (Ref: Para. A50) a. Whether the identified related party relationships and transactions have been appropriately accounted for and disclosed (Ref: Para. A51) b. Whether the effects of the related party relationships and transactions prevent the financial statements from achieving fair presentation (Ref: par. A3)	The requirements are equivalent.
32.	18. If the financial statements include a statement by management that transactions with related parties were conducted on terms	25. If management has made an assertion in the financial statements to the effect that a related party transaction was conducted on	The requirements are equivalent.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	equivalent to those prevailing in an arm's length transaction, the auditor should determine whether the evidence obtained supports or contradicts management's assertion. If the auditor is unable to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to substantiate management's assertion, and if management does not agree to modify the disclosure, the auditor should express a qualified or adverse opinion.^{20/} 20/ See paragraph .06.1. of AU sec. 333, which requires the auditor to obtain written representations from management if the financial statements include such an assertion. Representations from management alone are not sufficient appropriate audit evidence. See also paragraphs .35-.36 of AU sec. 508, Reports on Audited Financial Statements.	terms equivalent to those prevailing in an arm's length transaction, the auditor should obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about the assertion. (Ref: Para. A45-A49)
33.	Note: Transactions with related parties might not be conducted on terms equivalent to those prevailing in arm's-length transactions (e.g., a company may receive services from a related party without cost). Except for routine transactions, it may not be possible for management to determine whether a particular transaction would have taken place, or what the terms and manner of settlement would have been, if the parties	A45.It will generally not be possible to determine whether a particular transaction would have taken place if the parties had not been related, or assuming it would have taken place, what the terms and manner of settlement would have been. Accordingly, it is difficult to substantiate representations that a transaction was consummated on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's-length transactions.	The guidance is equivalent.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	had not been related. Accordingly, it may be difficult for the auditor to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to substantiate management's assertion that a transaction was consummated on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's-length transactions. A preface to a statement such as "management believes that" or "it is the company's belief that" does not change the auditor's responsibilities.	A46. Although audit evidence may be readily available regarding how the price of a related party transaction compares to that of a similar arm's length transaction, practical difficulties ordinarily limit the auditor's ability to obtain audit evidence that all other aspects of the transaction are equivalent to those of the arm's length transaction. For example, although the auditor may be able to confirm that a related party transaction has been conducted at a market price, it may be impracticable to confirm whether other terms and conditions of the transaction (such as credit terms, contingencies and specific charges) are equivalent to those that would ordinarily be agreed between independent parties. Accordingly, there may be a risk that management's assertion that a related party transaction was conducted on terms equivalent to those prevailing in an arm's length transaction may be materially misstated. A49. If the auditor believes that management's assertion is unsubstantiated or the auditor cannot obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to support the assertion, the auditor, in accordance with section 705, considers the implications for the audit, including the opinion in the auditor's report.

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
34.	19. The auditor should communicate to the audit committee the auditor's evaluation of the company's identification of, accounting for, and disclosure of its relationships and transactions with related parties. ²¹ The auditor also should communicate other significant matters arising from the audit regarding the company's relationships and transactions with related parties including, but not limited to:	27. Unless all of those charged with governance are involved in managing the entity, the auditor should communicate with those charged with governance significant findings and issues arising during the audit in connection with the entity's related parties. (Ref: Para. A52) A52. Communicating significant findings and issues arising during the audit in connection with the entity's related parties helps the auditor establish a common understanding with those charged with governance of the nature and resolution of these matters. Examples of significant related party matters include the following :	The requirements are equivalent.
35.	a. The identification of related parties or relationships or transactions with related parties that were previously undisclosed to the auditor; committee.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nondisclosure (whether or not intentional) by management to the auditor of related parties or significant related party transactions, which may alert those charged with governance to significant related party relationships and transactions of which they may not have been previously aware. 	The requirements are equivalent.
36.	b. The identification of significant related party transactions that have not been authorized or approved in accordance with	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The identification of significant related party transactions that have not been appropriately authorized and approved, 	Amendment proposed

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
	the company's established policies or procedures; c. The identification of significant related party transactions for which exceptions to the company's established policies or procedures were granted; e. The identification of significant related party transactions that appear to the auditor to lack a business purpose.	or that lack a business purpose, which may give rise to suspected fraud. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The identification of significant related party transactions that appear to lack a business purpose
37.	d. The inclusion of a statement in the financial statements that a transaction with a related party was conducted on terms equivalent to those prevailing in an arm's-length transaction and the evidence obtained by the auditor to support or contradict such an assertion; and	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Disagreement with management regarding the accounting for, and disclosure of, significant related party transactions; • including disagreements regarding the The inclusion of a statement in the financial statements that a transaction with a related party was conducted on terms equivalent to those prevailing in an arm's-length transaction. • Noncompliance with applicable laws or regulations prohibiting or restricting specific types of related party transactions. • Difficulties in identifying the party that ultimately controls the entity 	Amendment proposed

Omnibus SAS, Comparison to AS 2410
ASB Meeting, July 23-26, 2018

Row #	PCAOB AS 18, Related Parties	AU-C 550 (unless otherwise indicated)	Comments
38.	e. The identification of significant related party transactions that appear to the auditor to lack a business purpose.		Not in AU-C 550