Proposed AT-C Section 215, Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagements
Introduction, Objectives, Definitions, and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
Introduction	Introduction (Ref: par. .02 and .05)
.01 This section contains performance and reporting requirements and application guidance for all agreed-upon procedures engagements. The requirements and guidance in this section supplement the requirements and guidance in AT-C section 105, Concepts Common to All Attestation Engagements.*
.02 An agreed-upon procedures engagement is one in which a practitioner is engaged to issue, or does issue, a practitioner’s report of findings based on specific procedures applied to subject matter. The subject matter may be financial or nonfinancial information. Because the needs of an engaging party may vary widely, the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures may vary as well. (Ref: par. A1-.A2)	.A1 Reference to “subject matter” in this section encompasses anything on which agreed-upon procedures are performed, including information, documents, measurements or compliance with laws and regulations.
.03 Because the engaging party best understands its own needs, the engaging party is required to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement prior to issuance of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report. Engagement circumstances may be such that it is appropriate for parties in addition to the engaging party to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their purposes. The engaging party and intended users assess for themselves the procedures and findings	.A2 The procedures to be performed may be developed by the practitioner, the engaging party, another party, or a combination of these parties. Further, the procedures may be prescribed by law, regulation, or contract.

reported by the practitioner and draw their own conclusions from the work performed by the practitioner. .04 In an engagement performed in accordance with this section, the practitioner does not perform an examination or a review and does not provide an opinion or conclusion. Instead, the agreed-upon procedures report is in the form of procedures and findings.
.05 When a practitioner performs services pursuant to an engagement to apply agreed-upon procedures to subject matter as part of or in addition to another form of service, this section applies only to those services described herein; other professional standards would apply to the other services. Other services may include an audit, review, or compilation of a financial statement, another attestation service performed pursuant to the attestation standards, or a nonattest service. A practitioner’s report on applying agreed-upon procedures to subject matter may be combined with a report on such other services, provided the types of services can be clearly distinguished, and the applicable standards for each service are followed. (Ref: par. A2)
.06 This section does not apply to engagements to issue letters (commonly referred to as comfort letters) to underwriters and certain other requesting parties.¹
Effective Date
.07 This section is effective for agreed-upon procedures reports dated on or after July 15, 2021. Early implementation is permitted.
Objectives	Objectives (Ref: par. .08a)
.08 In conducting an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the objectives of the practitioner are to do the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Apply specific procedures to subject matter. (Ref: par. .A3) b. Issue a written practitioner’s report that describes the procedures applied and the practitioner’s findings without providing an opinion or conclusion on the subject matter. 	.A3 In an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the practitioner applies procedures to the subject matter of the engagement. The requirements and guidance related to the subject matter in AT-C section 105 apply.

Requirements
Conduct of an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement	Conduct of an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement (Ref: par. .09)
.09 In performing an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the practitioner should comply with this section, AT-C section 105, and any subject matter section that is relevant to the engagement. A subject matter AT-C section is relevant to the engagement when it is in effect and the circumstances addressed by the AT-C section exist. (Ref: par. .A4)	.A4 If a practitioner were performing an agreed-upon procedures engagement related to an entity’s compliance with requirements of specified laws, regulations, rules, contracts, or grants, AT-C section 105, this section, and AT-C section 315, Compliance Attestation, would be relevant. In addition, there may be interpretative publications applicable to the subject matter such as, for example, Statement of Position 17-1, Performing Agreed-Upon Procedures Related to Rated Exchange Act Asset-Backed Securities Third-Party Due Diligence Services As Defined by SEC Release No. 34-72936.
Preconditions for an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement	Preconditions for an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement (Ref: par. .10-.11 and .35)
.10 AT-C section 105 indicates that a practitioner must be independent when performing an attestation engagement in accordance with the attestation standards, unless the practitioner is required by law or regulation to accept the engagement and report on the subject matter .² When the practitioner is not independent but is required by law or regulation to accept an agreed-upon procedures engagement and report on the procedures performed and findings obtained, the practitioner’s report should specifically state that the practitioner is not independent. The practitioner is neither required to provide, nor precluded from providing, the reasons for the lack of independence; however, if the practitioner chooses to provide the reasons for the lack of independence, the practitioner should include all the reasons therefor. (Ref: par. .A5)	.A5 The “Agreed-Upon Procedure Engagements Performed in Accordance With SSAEs” interpretation (ET sec. 1.297.020)[‡] of the “Independence Rule” establishes independence requirements unique to agreed-upon procedures engagements.
.11 In order to establish that the preconditions for an agreed-upon procedures engagement are present, the practitioner should determine that the following conditions, in addition to the preconditions identified in AT-C section 105, are present:³ (Ref: par. A6)	.A6 In determining whether procedures can be designed, performed, and reported on in accordance with this section, the practitioner may consider whether such procedures:

a. The practitioner determines that procedures can be designed, performed, and reported on in accordance with this section. b. The engaging party agrees, or will be able to agree, to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement. (Ref: par. A7) c. The procedures to be applied to the subject matter are expected to result in reasonably consistent findings. d. When applicable, the practitioner agrees to apply a threshold for reporting exceptions established by the engaging party. (Ref: par. A35)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are or will be subjective or require judgment to apply • Will be selected to only result in findings that show the subject matter in a favorable light • Will meet the intended purpose of the engagement as well as the intended purpose of other parties to the engagement.
.12 The practitioner should establish an understanding with the engaging party regarding the nature of the engagement, including: a. The intended purpose of the engagement and the intended users of the agreed-upon procedures report, including whether the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report is expected to be restricted to the use of intended users; (Ref: par. A7-.A8) b. Any law, regulation, or contract pursuant to which the engagement is to be performed; and (Ref: par. A9)	.A7 The intended purpose of the engagement is determined by the engaging party. Consideration of the intended purpose of the engagement and the intended users of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report informs the practitioner’s judgments about whether it is practical or necessary to obtain the agreement of those users, and whether to restrict the use of the report as discussed in paragraphs .35-.36. .A8 The engagement may be required by law, regulation, or contract or may arise as a result of a request by a third party or the engaging party’s intent to provide information to a broad class of users, such as customers. .A9 Law or regulation may require an agreed-upon procedures engagement to be performed (for example, to demonstrate compliance with requirements of specific laws or regulations). Further, the procedures to be performed may be prescribed by law, regulation, or contract. Regulatory expectations may also be set out as part of a regulatory audit or communications or requests from regulators. Law or regulation may prescribe the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed and, in some cases, the way the procedures or findings are to be described in the practitioner’s report. In other circumstances, law or regulation may prescribe only the nature of the procedures to be performed or may use uncertain terms lacking clarity that an agreed-upon procedures engagement is

c. whether parties in addition to the engaging party will be requested to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purposes. (Ref: par. A10-.A13)	an acceptable service (for example, terms requiring an audit, review, examination, validation, or certification). .A10 Based on the practitioner’s understanding with the engaging party, the practitioner may consider it necessary to request a regulator to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purpose. .A11 A contract may require an agreed-upon procedures engagement to be performed. Given that the procedures are being performed to satisfy the obligations or expectations of the parties to the contract, unless the procedures, or a detailed description of the nature of the procedures, are included in the contract, all users of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report ordinarily would agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their purposes. .A12 As another example, a practitioner may be engaged to perform procedures relating to a securitization transaction. In such circumstances, the practitioner and engaging party may identify other parties, such as underwriters, to request to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purposes. .A13 Nothing precludes the practitioner and engaging party from agreeing to the type of communication or acknowledgment to be used to obtain the agreement and acknowledgment of parties other than the engaging party that the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purposes and who would make the communication. If the practitioner intends to communicate directly with a party other than the engaging party, the rules regarding confidential information as set forth in the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct applies.
.13 The practitioner is precluded from accepting an agreed-upon procedures engagement if the practitioner believes the intended purpose of the engagement is not clear or the engaging party will not have a basis for agreeing and

acknowledging that the procedures are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement.
Agreeing on the Terms of the Engagement	Agreeing on the Terms of the Engagement (Ref: par. .14–.15)
.14 The practitioner should agree upon the terms of the engagement with the engaging party. The agreed-upon terms of the engagement should be specified in sufficient detail in an engagement letter or other suitable form of written agreement. (Ref: par. .A14)	.A14 It is in the interests of both the engaging party and the practitioner to document the agreed-upon terms of the engagement before the commencement of the engagement to help avoid misunderstandings. The form and content of the engagement letter or other suitable form of written agreement will vary with the engagement circumstances.
.15 The agreed-upon terms of the engagement should include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The nature of the engagement established pursuant to paragraph .12 b. Identification of the subject matter and the responsible party c. The responsibilities of the practitioner (Ref: par. .A15–.A16) d. A statement that the engagement will be conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants e. A statement that the responsible party is responsible for the subject matter (Ref: par. .A17) 	.A15 The responsibility of the practitioner is to carry out the procedures and report the findings in accordance with the attestation standards. The practitioner assumes the risk that misapplication of the procedures may result in inappropriate findings being reported. Furthermore, the practitioner assumes the risk that appropriate findings may not be reported or may be reported inaccurately. The practitioner’s risks can be reduced through adequate planning and supervision and due professional care in performing the procedures, accumulating the findings, and preparing the practitioner’s report. .A16 The practitioner has no responsibility to determine the differences between the procedures to be performed and the procedures that the practitioner would have determined to be necessary had the practitioner been engaged to perform another form of attestation engagement. The procedures that the practitioner performs pursuant to an agreed-upon procedures engagement may be more or less extensive than the procedures that the practitioner would determine to be necessary had he or she been engaged to perform another form of engagement. .A17 There may be circumstances in which the party responsible for the subject matter is not a party to the engagement. For example, the practitioner may be engaged to perform procedures with respect to benchmarking certain information in which multiple entities may be responsible for certain aspects of the information, or the information

- f.* An acknowledgment that the engaging party agrees to provide the practitioner, prior to the completion of the engagement, with a written agreement and acknowledgment regarding the appropriateness of the procedures for the intended purpose of the engagement. (Ref. par. .A18).
- g.* An acknowledgment that the engaging party agrees to provide, at the conclusion of the engagement, a representation letter.
- h.* If known at the onset of the engagement, an identification of any other parties, in addition to the engaging party, that will be requested to agree to the procedures and acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purpose. If the request will be made by the engaging party, an acknowledgment that the engaging party agrees to provide, at the conclusion of the engagement, a representation that the engaging party has obtained from all appropriate parties agreement and acknowledgment that the procedures are appropriate for their purposes.
- i.* If the engaging party is not the responsible party, a statement that written representations may be requested from the responsible party.
- j.* Reference to the expected form and content of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report, including any use restrictions, if applicable.
- k.* Disclaimers expected to be included in the practitioner’s report, if applicable
- l.* Assistance to be provided to the practitioner, if applicable
- m.* Involvement of a practitioner’s external specialist, if applicable
- n.* Specified thresholds for reporting exceptions, if applicable (Ref: par. A35) may be publicly available, such as subject matter that appears on the internet or in a public building such as a grocery or retail store. If the practitioner is engaged to benchmark the prices of 10 products at 3 different stores on a certain date, each of the stores may be responsible for the source of the subject matter and the price that is published on the shelf.

.A18 If the procedures are prescribed or otherwise developed by parties other than the practitioner, the agreed-upon terms of the engagement may include the procedures to be performed.

Procedures to Be Performed	Procedures to Be Performed (Ref: par. .16-.17 and .25)
.16 The practitioner should perform procedures agreed to and acknowledged by the engaging party to meet the intended purpose of the engagement established with the engaging party pursuant to paragraph .12a. (Ref: par. .A19-.A24)	.A19 Mere reading of specified information about the subject matter does not constitute a procedure sufficient to permit a practitioner to report on the results of applying procedures.
	.A20 Examples of appropriate procedures include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Inspection of specified documents evidencing certain types of transactions or detailed attributes thereof • Confirmation of specific information with third parties • Comparison of documents, schedules, or analyses with certain specified attributes • Performance of specific procedures on work performed by others • Performance of mathematical computations
	.A21 Examples of inappropriate procedures include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mere reading of the work performed by others solely to describe their findings • Evaluating the competency or objectivity of another party • Obtaining an understanding about a particular subject • Interpreting documents outside the scope of the practitioner’s professional expertise
	.A22 If the practitioner selects a sample, stating the size of the sample and how the sample was selected contributes to the specificity of the description of procedures performed (for example, 50 items starting at the eighth item and selecting every fifteenth item thereafter or invoices issued from May 1 to July 31, 20XX). .A23 In certain circumstances, it may be appropriate for a planned procedure to be modified because the results of applying the procedure indicate that the procedure was not appropriately designed, and the findings would not be consistent with the intended purpose of the engagement. However, any revisions to the descriptions of procedures performed or findings that are intended to mislead users or avoid reporting unfavorable findings would be inappropriate.

	.A24 Examples of other information the practitioner may include are the date the procedure was performed and the sources of information used in performing the procedure.
.17 The practitioner should not perform procedures that are open to varying interpretations or that use vague or ambiguous language. Terms of uncertain meaning (such as general review, limited review, check, or test) should not be used in describing the procedures unless such terms are defined within the procedures. (Ref: par. .A25)	.A25 To avoid vague or ambiguous language, the procedures to be performed are characterized by the action to be taken at a level of specificity sufficient for a reader to understand the nature and extent of the procedures performed. Examples of acceptable descriptions of actions are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Inspect • Confirm • Compare • Agree • Trace • Inquire • Recalculate • Observe • Mathematically check Conversely, the following descriptions of actions (unless defined to indicate the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures associated with these actions) generally are not acceptable because they are not sufficiently precise or have an uncertain meaning: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Note • Review • General review • Limited review • Evaluate • Analyze • Check • Test • Interpret • Verify • Examine

.18 The practitioner should obtain evidence from applying the procedures to provide a reasonable basis for the finding or findings expressed in the practitioner’s report but need not perform additional procedures outside the scope of the engagement to gather additional evidence.
Using the Work of a Practitioner’s External Specialist	Using the Work of a Practitioner’s External Specialist (Ref: par. .19)
.19 The practitioner and the engaging party should explicitly agree to the involvement of a practitioner’s external specialist if assisting a practitioner in the performance of an agreed-upon procedures engagement. (Ref: par. .A26–.A28)	.A26 The practitioner’s education and experience enable the practitioner to be knowledgeable about business matters in general, but the practitioner is not expected to have the expertise of a person trained for or qualified to engage in the practice of another profession or occupation. In certain circumstances, it may be appropriate to involve a practitioner’s external specialist to assist the practitioner in the performance of one or more procedures. The following are examples of such circumstances: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An attorney who helps with the interpretation of legal terminology in laws, regulations, rules, contracts, or grants • A medical specialist who assists with understanding the characteristics of diagnosis codes documented in patient medical records • An environmental engineer who assists with the interpretation of environmental remedial action regulatory directives that may affect the procedures applied to an environmental liabilities account in a financial statement • A geologist who helps distinguish between the physical characteristics of a generic minerals group related to information to which the procedures are applied
	.A27 The agreement regarding the involvement of a practitioner’s external specialist may be reached when agreeing upon the terms of the engagement or as part of obtaining the engaging party’s agreement and acknowledgment that the procedures performed are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement.
	.A28 A practitioner may apply procedures to the report or work product of a practitioner’s external specialist that does not constitute

	assistance by the external specialist to the practitioner in an agreed-upon procedures engagement. For example, the practitioner may reference information contained in a report of a practitioner’s external specialist in describing a procedure. However, it is inappropriate for the practitioner to merely read the external specialist’s report solely to describe or repeat the findings or to take responsibility for all or a portion of any procedures performed by a practitioner’s external specialist or the external specialist’s work product.
.20 The practitioner’s report should describe the nature of the assistance provided by the practitioner’s external specialist.
Using the Work of Internal Auditors or Other Practitioners	Using the Work of Internal Auditors or Other Practitioners (Ref: par. .21 and par. .27)
.21 The procedures to be enumerated or referred to in the practitioner’s report should be performed entirely by the engagement team or other practitioners. (Ref: par. .A29–.A31)	.A29 Internal auditors or other personnel may prepare schedules and accumulate data or provide other information for the practitioner’s use in performing the procedures. Also, internal auditors may perform and report separately on procedures that they have carried out. Such procedures may be similar to those that a practitioner may perform under this section.
	.A30 A practitioner may perform procedures on information documented in the working papers of internal auditors. For example, the practitioner may do the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Repeat all or some of the procedures • Determine whether the internal auditors’ documentation indicates procedures performed and whether the findings documented are presented in a report by the internal auditors
	.A31 It is inappropriate for the practitioner to do the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Merely read the internal auditors’ report solely to describe or repeat their findings • Take responsibility for all or a portion of any procedures performed by internal auditors by reporting those findings as the practitioner’s own • Report in any manner that implies shared responsibility for the procedures with the internal auditors

Appropriateness of the Procedures Performed	Appropriateness of the Procedures Performed (Ref: par. .22 and .27)
.22 Prior to the issuance of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report, the practitioner should obtain a written agreement and acknowledgment from the engaging party that the procedures performed are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement. (Ref: par..A32–.A33) .23 If the engaging party refuses to provide the written agreement and acknowledgment required by paragraph .22, the practitioner should withdraw from the engagement.	.A32 The practitioner’s communication with the engaging party enables the engaging party, if not already aware, to be made aware of the specific procedures performed and affords the engaging party an opportunity to suggest alternative or additional procedures that the engaging party may feel are appropriate in order to meet the purpose of the engagement. .A33 The written agreement and acknowledgment of the appropriateness of the procedures performed may be documented in the engagement letter, an addendum to the engagement letter, a representation letter, or some other written communication.
Findings	Findings (Ref: par. .11d, .15n, and .24–.26)
.24 A practitioner should present the results of applying procedures to specific subject matter in the form of findings. (Ref: par. A34)	.A34 Findings are the factual results of procedures performed. Findings are capable of being objectively verified and objectively described, which means that different practitioners performing the same procedures are expected to arrive at the same results. Accordingly, findings exclude opinions or conclusions in any form as well as any recommendations that the practitioner may make.
.25 The practitioner should report all findings from application of the procedures. Any specified thresholds for reporting exceptions should be described in the practitioner’s report. (Ref: par. .A23, .A35 and .A45)	.A35 The concept of materiality does not apply to findings reported in an agreed-upon procedures engagement unless a specified threshold for reporting exceptions is established by the engaging party. An example of language that describes a threshold for reporting exceptions is as follows: “For purposes of performing these procedures, no exceptions were reported for differences of $1,000 or less resulting solely from the rounding of amounts disclosed.”
.26 In reporting findings, the practitioner should (Ref: par. .A39-.A40) a. not use vague or ambiguous language. (Ref: par. .A36) b. not include terms of uncertain meaning. (Ref: par. .A37)	.A36 To avoid vague or ambiguous language, the findings are described at a level of specificity sufficient for a user to understand the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures and findings. .A37 If, in the practitioner’s judgment, certain terms are potentially uncertain in meaning, the practitioner may consider whether a glossary is appropriate in the circumstances.

c. not express an opinion or conclusion on the subject matter or about whether the subject matter is in accordance with (or based on) the criteria. (Ref: par. .A38)	.A38 An example of language that should not be used in reporting findings is as follows: “Nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the subject matter is not in accordance with (or based on) the criteria, in all material respects.” .A39 The following table provides examples of appropriate and inappropriate descriptions of findings resulting from the application of certain procedures.
	Appropriate Procedures	Appropriate Description of Findings	Inappropriate Description of Findings
	Inspect the shipment dates for a sample (agreed upon) of specified shipping documents and determine whether any such dates were subsequent to [date].	No shipment dates shown on the sample of shipping documents were subsequent to [date].	Nothing came to my attention as a result of applying that procedure.
	Recalculate the number of blocks of streets paved during the year ended [date], shown on contractors’ certificates of project completion; compare the resultant number to the number in an identified chart of performance statistics as of [date].	The number of blocks of streets paved in the chart of performance statistics was Y blocks more than the number calculated from the contractors’ certificates of project completion.	The number of blocks of streets paved approximated the number of blocks included in the chart of performance statistics.

	Recalculate the rate of return on a specified investment (according to an agreed-upon formula) and determine whether the resultant percentage agrees to the percentage in an identified schedule.	No exceptions were found as a result of applying the procedure.	The resultant percentage approximated the predetermined percentage in the identified schedule.
	Inspect the quality standards classification codes in identified performance test documents for products produced during [specified period]; compare such codes to those shown in the [identified] computer printout for [specified period] as of [date].	All classification codes inspected in the identified documents were the same as those shown in the computer printout, except for the following: [List all exceptions.]	All classification codes appeared to comply with such performance documents.
	Trace all outstanding checks appearing on a bank reconciliation as of [date] to checks cleared in the bank statement of the subsequent month.	All outstanding checks appearing on the bank reconciliation were traced to the list of cleared checks in the subsequent month's bank statement,	Nothing came to my attention as a result of applying the procedure.

	Compare the amounts of the invoices included in the “over 90 days” column shown in an identified schedule of aged accounts receivable of a specific customer as of [date] to the amount and invoice date shown on the corresponding outstanding invoice. Determine whether the dates on the corresponding outstanding invoices precede the date indicated on the schedule by more than 90 days.	All outstanding invoice amounts agreed with the amounts shown on the schedule in the “over 90 days” column, and the dates shown on such outstanding invoices preceded the date indicated on the schedule by more than 90 days.	The outstanding invoice amounts agreed within approximation of the amounts shown on the schedule in the “over 90 days” column, and nothing came to our attention that the dates shown on such outstanding invoices preceded the date indicated on the schedule by more than 90 days.
	Obtain from XYZ Company [personnel specified by management] , the [date] bank reconciliations. Confirm with the bank the cash on deposit as of [date] . Compare the	Obtained from XYZ Company [personnel specified by management] , the [date] bank reconciliations. Obtained bank confirmations of the cash on deposit as of [date] . Compared	No exceptions were identified in the confirmations received, and nothing came to our attention as a result of applying the procedures.

	balance confirmed by the bank to the amount shown on the bank reconciliations.	the balance confirmed by the bank to the amount shown on the bank reconciliations. [List all exceptions.]
	.A40 When a procedure is written in sufficient detail, the finding may be very brief because the practitioner does not need to repeat the procedure in describing the result. When there are no exceptions, common descriptions of results are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No exceptions were noted. • No exceptions were [noted/found/identified] as a result of applying the procedure. It is acceptable to repeat part of the procedure in the finding, such as in the following examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No shipment dates shown on the sample of shipping documents were subsequent to [date]. • All outstanding invoice numbers, dates, and amounts agreed with the corresponding fields on the “over 90 days” column of the schedule. If the practitioner identifies exceptions in applying the procedures, the report states them and provides some detail about the item or items involved, such as in the following examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We found 14 out of the 15 items to be in agreement; the address on one item on the schedule did not agree to the [source document]. • The amount recalculated as a result of performing the procedure was $xxx, which did not agree with the amount of $yyyy on the [describe supporting document].

- Of the 30 selections made, two [insert attribute, such as amounts, dates, names] did not agree from the [describe the supporting documentation] to the [describe the supporting documentation].

A finding written to appear to be a fact or a conclusion would not be appropriate, such as in the following examples:

- A result stating, “We determined the current ratio of X Company at December 31, 20X4, was 2:1,” could be considered a fact and is not appropriate. An appropriate description of the result could be stated as, “We recalculated the current ratio of X Company at December 31, 20X4, as 2:1.”
- A result stating, “We have [observed/found/determined] the net sales of X Company for the year 20X4 were $X,” could be considered a fact and is not appropriate. An appropriate description of the result could be stated as, “We recalculated the net sales of X Company for the year 20X4 based on totaling the list of invoices in the sales journal as $X.”

Additionally, terms that might be construed as communicating assurance—such as “reasonable” or “adequate,” or that the results of applying the procedure were “close enough”—would not be appropriate. For example, it is inappropriate to state the following:

- The [number of blocks of streets paved] per the [supporting documentation] approximated the [number of blocks of streets paved] included in the chart of performance statistics for the year ended [date].
- All [classification codes] appear to comply with the requirements in the contract.

Terms such as “minor,” “immaterial,” “material,” or “significant,” unless the measures of relevance comprehended by such terms are clearly defined in both the engagement letter and the practitioner’s report, are not appropriate for use in expressing results of procedures.

	It is also inappropriate to word a finding to convey negative assurance. For example, it is inappropriate to state the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nothing came to our attention as a result of applying the procedure. • Nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that [the subject matter] is not presented in accordance with [the criteria].
Written Representations	Written Representations (Ref: par. .27)
.27 The practitioner should request from the engaging party written representations in the form of a letter addressed to the practitioner. The representations should do the following: (Ref: par. .A33 and .A41) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. State that the responsible party is responsible for the subject matter. b. If applicable, state that the engaging party has obtained from all appropriate parties agreement and acknowledgment that the procedures are appropriate for their purposes c. State that it has provided the practitioner with all relevant information and access, as applicable, as agreed upon in the terms of the engagement. d. State that all known matters contradicting the subject matter and any communication from regulatory agencies or others affecting the subject matter have been disclosed to the practitioner, including communications received between the end of the period addressed by the subject matter and the date of the practitioner's report. e. State that it is not aware of any material misstatements in the subject matter. f. State that it has disclosed to the practitioner all known events subsequent to the period (or point in time) of the subject matter being reported on that would have a material effect on the subject matter. 	.A41 Written confirmation of oral representations reduces the possibility of misunderstandings between the practitioner and the engaging party. The person from whom the practitioner requests written representations is ordinarily a member of senior management or those charged with governance depending on, for example, the management and governance structure of the engaging party, which may vary by entity, reflecting influences such as size and ownership characteristics.

g. Include any additional representations that the practitioner determines are appropriate.
.28 When the engaging party is not the responsible party, the practitioner should consider requesting the written representations pursuant to paragraph .27 from the responsible party in the form of a letter addressed to the practitioner.
.29 The date of the written representations should be as of the date of the practitioner’s report. The written representations should address the subject matter and periods covered by the practitioner’s findings.
Requested Written Representations Not Provided or Not Reliable	Requested Written Representations Not Provided or Not Reliable (Ref: par. .30c)
.30 When one or more of the written representations that the practitioner has requested pursuant to paragraphs .27-.28 are not provided, or the practitioner concludes that there is sufficient doubt about the competence, integrity, ethical values, or diligence of those providing the written representations, or the practitioner concludes that the written representations are otherwise not reliable, the practitioner should do the following: (Ref: par..A42) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Discuss the matter with the engaging or responsible party, as appropriate b. Reevaluate the integrity of those from whom the representations were requested or received and evaluate the effect that this may have on the reliability of representations and evidence in general. c. If any of the matters are not resolved to the practitioner’s satisfaction, take appropriate action, including determining the possible effect on the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report. (Ref: par. .A43) 	.A42 Circumstances in which the practitioner may be unable to obtain requested written representations include, for example, when <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the engaging party does not have a relationship with the responsible party and • the agreed-upon procedures engagement is undertaken against the wishes of the responsible party, for example when required by law or regulation. In these or similar circumstances, the practitioner may need to reconsider whether the responsible party is able to take responsibility for the subject matter. .A43 Although it is expected that the practitioner will be able to obtain all the requested written representations from the engaging party and, if applicable, the responsible party pursuant to paragraphs .27-.28, appropriate actions the practitioner might consider in the circumstances described in paragraph .30c include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Determining the effect on the practitioner’s report, including whether to restrict the use of the practitioner’s report or whether to disclose in the practitioner’s report that the

	engaging party or the responsible party did not provide one or more of the requested written representations b. Withdrawing from the engagement
Preparing the Practitioner’s Report	Preparing the Practitioner’s Report (Ref: par. .25, .31, and .33)
.31 The practitioner’s report should be in writing. (Ref: par. .A44)	.A44 This section does not require a standardized format for reporting on all agreed-upon procedures engagements. Instead, it identifies the basic elements that the report is to include. The report is tailored to the specific engagement circumstances. The practitioner may use headings, separate paragraphs, paragraph numbers, typographical devices (for example, boldface text), and other mechanisms to enhance the clarity and readability of the report.
.32 The practitioner’s report should be in the form of procedures and findings.
.33 If, as a result of performing procedures, the practitioner determines that the description of the procedures performed or the corresponding findings, in the practitioner’s professional judgment, are misleading in the circumstances of the engagement, the practitioner should discuss the matter with the engaging party and take appropriate action. (Ref: par. .A45–.A46)	.A45 Findings may be misleading, for example, if the responsible party revises the subject matter as a result of initial findings from procedures performed, and the findings to be expressed in the report do not indicate that the subject matter was changed. In such instances, the findings may indicate that the subject matter was revised as a result of initial findings from the procedures performed and that there are no findings with respect to the revised subject matter. .A46 Appropriate actions that the practitioner might consider in the circumstances described in paragraph .33 include a. performing revised procedures, b. rewording a procedure or a finding, or c. withdrawing from the engagement.
Content of the Practitioner’s Agreed-Upon Procedures Report	Content of the Practitioner’s Agreed-Upon Procedures Report
.34 The practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report should include the following: a. A title that includes the word independent to clearly indicate that it is the report of an independent accountant. (Ref: par. .A47)	Title (Ref: par. .34a) .A47 A title indicating that the practitioner’s report is the report of an independent practitioner (for example, “Independent Practitioner’s Report,” “Report of Independent Certified Public Accountant,” or “Independent Accountant’s Report”) affirms that the practitioner has

b. An appropriate addressee as required by the circumstances of the engagement. c. Identification of the engaging party. d. Identification of the subject matter to which the procedures have been applied. (Ref: par. .A48). e. Identification of the responsible party including a statement that the responsible party is responsible for the subject matter. f. A statement that the procedures performed were those agreed to by the engaging party and that engaging party has acknowledged the appropriateness of the procedures to meet the intended purpose of the engagement (Ref: par. In these engagements, the practitioner may issue one practitioner’s report that refers to all subject matter covered. AT-C section 315 contains an example of language that may be used in the introductory paragraph to address such circumstances.⁴ Agreement to and Acknowledgment of the Appropriateness of the Procedures (Ref: par. 34f) .A49 While not required, to address the risk that a user (particularly of a general-use agreed-upon procedures report) may conclude parties in addition to the engaging party agreed to and acknowledged the appropriateness of the procedures, the practitioner may consider adding language such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• A statement that no other party acknowledged the appropriateness of the procedures;• An identification of any other parties who agreed to and acknowledged the appropriateness of the procedures for their purposes and a statement that these parties have acknowledged that the procedures performed are appropriate for their purposes; or• A statement that the procedures are specified in a contract, law, or regulation and a reference to the contract, law, or regulation that clearly indicates that additional parties are parties to the contract, law, or regulation.

.A50 While not required, to address the risk that a user may conclude that the practitioner represents that the procedures performed are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement, the practitioner may make an explicit statement that the practitioner makes no representation regarding the appropriateness of the procedures either for the purpose for which the practitioner’s report has been requested or for any other purpose.

Description of the Intended Purpose of the Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement (Ref: par. 34g)

.A51 Because the practitioner is precluded from expressing an opinion or conclusion, it would not be appropriate to state that the intended purpose of the engagement was to determine whether the subject matter was prepared or is stated in accordance with specified criteria or that the practitioner performed the engagement to conclude whether the entity complied with specified criteria.

Practitioner’s Report Not Suitable for Any Other Purpose (Ref: par. 34h)

.A52 The practitioner may advise potential users regarding inappropriate uses of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report. For example, the practitioner may advise that the report is not intended for making investment decisions or for use by potential lenders or investors.

- g. A statement that the purpose of the engagement was determined by the engaging party and an identification of the intended purpose of the engagement in sufficient detail to enable the reader to understand the nature of the work performed. (Ref: par. .A51)

- h. A statement that the practitioner’s report may not be suitable for any other purpose. (Ref: par. .A52)

- i. A statement that the procedures performed may not address all of the items of interest to a user of the report and may not meet the needs of all users of the report and, as such, users are responsible for determining whether the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purpose.

- j. A statement that an agreed-upon procedures engagement involves the practitioner performing specific procedures that the engaging party has agreed to and acknowledged to be appropriate for the purpose of the engagement and reporting on findings based on the procedures performed.

- k. A description of the procedures performed detailing the nature and extent, and if applicable, the timing, of each procedure.
- l. A description of the findings from each procedure performed, including sufficient details on exceptions found.
- m. If applicable, a description of any specified threshold for reporting exceptions.
- n. A statement that the agreed-upon procedures engagement was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.
- o. A statement that the practitioner was not engaged to and did not conduct an examination or review, the objective of which would be the expression of an opinion or conclusion, respectively, on the subject matter. (Ref: par. .A53)
- p. A statement that the practitioner does not express such an opinion or conclusion.
- q. A statement that had the practitioner performed additional procedures, other matters might have come to the practitioner's attention that would have been reported.
- r. A statement that the practitioner is required to be independent of the responsible party and to meet the practitioner's other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to the agreed-upon procedures engagement. (Ref: par. .A54–.A55)
- s. If applicable, a description of the nature of the assistance provided by a practitioner's external specialist, as discussed in paragraphs .19–.20.

Statement When the Subject Matter Consists of Elements, Accounts, or Items of a Financial Statement (Ref: par. .34o)

.A53 If the subject matter consists of elements, accounts, or items of a financial statement, the practitioner's report might, instead, state that the procedures do not constitute an audit (or a review) of financial statements or any part thereof, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion (or conclusion) on the financial statements or a part thereof.

Relevant Ethical Requirements (Ref: par. .34r)

.A54 Relevant ethical requirements consist of the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct together with rules of state boards of accountancy and applicable regulatory agencies that are more restrictive. When the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct applies, the practitioner's other ethical responsibilities relate to the "Principles of Professional Conduct" (ET sec. 0.300).

.A55 Relevant ethical requirements may exist in several different sources, such as ethical codes and additional rules and requirements within law and regulation. When independence and other relevant ethical requirements are contained in a limited number of sources, the practitioner may choose to name the relevant sources (for example,

t. When applicable, reservations or restrictions concerning procedures or findings. (Ref: par. .A56) u. The manual or printed signature of the practitioner’s firm. Alert That Restricts the Use of the Practitioner’s Agreed-Upon Procedures Report	Alert That Restricts the Use of the Practitioner’s Agreed-Upon Procedures Report (Ref: par. .35–.36)
.35 The practitioner should consider whether to include an alert, in a separate paragraph, that restricts the use of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report taking into account the understanding with the engaging party regarding the nature of the engagement pursuant to paragraph .12a . (Ref: par. .A7 and .A61–.A65)	.A61 Based on the circumstances of the engagement, the practitioner may consider it appropriate to include an alert, in a separate paragraph, that restricts the use of the practitioner’s agreed upon procedures report. Examples of situations in which the practitioner, utilizing professional judgment, may decide to include an alert, in a separate paragraph, that restricts the use of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report include, but are not limited to, the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When the engaging party requests that the use of the report be restricted. • When agreed-upon procedures are performed on compliance with aspects of contractual agreements, the practitioner may determine to restrict the use of the report to the parties to the contract or agreement. • When agreed-upon procedures are performed to comply with regulatory requirements, the practitioner may determine to restrict the use of the report to the engaging party and the regulator. • When agreed-upon procedures are performed relating to certain subject matter (for example, subject matter addressed in the AT-C section 300 series), the practitioner may determine to restrict the use of the report to parties that are known to understand the subject matter. • When agreed-upon procedures are performed on subject matter that is intended to be used by or is only available to a limited number of parties, the practitioner may determine to restrict the use of the report to such parties.

- When the procedures that the practitioner is engaged to perform are prescribed and the practitioner does not have the ability to perform or design additional procedures, the practitioner may determine to restrict the use of the report to those parties that prescribed the procedures.

.A62 A practitioner's report that includes an alert that restricts the use of the report may be included in a document that also contains a practitioner's report that is for general use. The inclusion of the separate restricted-use report does not affect the intended use of the general-use report nor does the inclusion of the general-use report affect the intended use of the restricted-use report. The restricted-use report remains restricted as to use and the general-use report continues to be for general-use.

.A63 A practitioner may also issue a single combined practitioner's report that includes (a) a practitioner's report that includes an alert that restricts its use and (b) a report that is for general use. If these two types of reports are clearly differentiated within the combined report, such as through the use of appropriate headings, the alert that restricts the use of the report may be limited to the report that includes that includes an alert that restricts its use. In such circumstances, the use of the general use report is not affected.

.A64 Law or regulation may require that a practitioner's report be made available to the public as a matter of public record.

.A65 The engaging party may distribute the report to parties other than those specified in the alert that restricts the use of the practitioner's report. A practitioner is not responsible for controlling, and cannot control, distribution of the practitioner's report after its release. The alert that restricts the use of the practitioner's report is designed to avoid misunderstandings related to the use of the practitioner’s report, particularly if the practitioner’s report is taken out of the context in which the practitioner’s report is intended to be used. A practitioner may consider informing the engaging party or other specified parties that the practitioner’s report is not intended for distribution to parties other than those specified in the practitioner’s report. The practitioner may, in connection with establishing the terms of the engagement, reach an understanding with the engaging party that the intended use of the practitioner’s report will be restricted and may obtain the engaging party’s agreement that the engaging party and specified parties will not distribute such practitioner’s report to parties other than those identified therein.

.36 The alert should do the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. State that the practitioner’s report is intended solely for the information and use of the specified parties. b. Identify the specified parties for whom use is intended. (Ref: par. .A66) c. State that the report is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than the specified parties. 	.A66 The practitioner may identify the specified parties by naming them, referring to a list of those parties, or identifying the class of parties, for example, "all customers of XYZ Company during some or all of the period January 1, 20XX, to December 31, 20XX." The method of identifying the specified parties is determined by the practitioner.
Adding Other Specified Parties After the Release of the Practitioner’s Report
.37 If other specified parties are added after the release of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report the practitioner should take the following actions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Amend the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report to add the other parties. In such circumstances, the practitioner should not change the date of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report. b. Provide a written acknowledgment to the engaging party and the other parties that such parties have been added as specified parties. The practitioner should state in the acknowledgment that no procedures were performed subsequent to the original date of the practitioner’s

agreed-upon procedures report.
Restrictions on the Performance of Procedures
.38 When circumstances impose restrictions on the performance of the procedures, the practitioner should discuss with the engaging party whether those restrictions are appropriate and, if the restrictions are appropriate, describe the restrictions in the practitioner’s report.
Knowledge of Matters Outside Procedures	Knowledge of Matters Outside Procedures (Ref: par. .39)
.39 Although the practitioner need not perform procedures beyond the procedures agreed to and acknowledged by the engaging party to be appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement, if in connection with the application of the procedures, and through the completion of the engagement, matters come to the practitioner’s attention by other means that significantly contradict the subject matter referred to in the practitioner’s report, the practitioner should discuss the matter with the engaging party and take appropriate action, including determining whether the practitioner’s report should be revised to disclose the matter. (Ref: par. .A67–.A68)	.A67 For example, if, during the course of applying procedures regarding an entity’s internal control, the practitioner becomes aware of a material weakness by means other than performance of the procedures, this matter may be included in the practitioner’s report.
	.A68 When the practitioner applies procedures to an element, account, or item of a financial statement and has performed an audit or review of the entity’s related financial statements, and the practitioner’s audit or review report on such financial statements includes a departure from the standard report, the practitioner may include a reference to the audit or review report and the departure from the standard report in the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report.
Communication Responsibilities	Communication Responsibilities (Ref: par. .40)
.40 In the event the practitioner encounters known or suspected fraud or noncompliance with laws or regulations in connection with the engagement, the practitioner should consider responsibilities under the Code of Professional Conduct and applicable law prior to communicating such information either to the responsible party or the engaging party. (Ref: par. .A69)	.A69 The practitioner may address the approval or approvals to communicate such matters in the engagement letter and also consider having the responsible party, if different from the engaging party, to also execute the engagement letter. In circumstances where such matters are identified, the practitioner may consider discussing with legal counsel or others prior to communicating or taking further action.

Documentation	Documentation (Ref: par. .41)
.41 The practitioner should prepare engagement documentation on a timely basis that includes the following: (Ref: par. .A70–.A71) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The written agreement and acknowledgment from the engaging party regarding the appropriateness of the procedures performed for the intended purpose of the engagement, as required by paragraph .22 b. The nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed to comply with relevant AT-C sections and applicable legal and regulatory requirements, including the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. The identifying characteristics of the specific items or matters tested ii. Who performed the engagement work and the date such work was completed iii. When the appropriate party will not provide one or more of the requested written representations pursuant to paragraphs .27-28 or the practitioner concludes that there is sufficient doubt about the competence, integrity, ethical values, or diligence of those providing the written representations, or that the written representations are otherwise not reliable, the matters in paragraph .30a–c iv. Who reviewed the engagement work performed and the date and extent of such review d. The results of the procedures performed and the evidence obtained 	.A70 Documentation prepared at the time work is performed or shortly thereafter is likely to be more accurate than documentation prepared at a much later time. .A71 The practitioner need not include in the engagement file superseded drafts of working papers, notes that reflect incomplete or preliminary thinking, previous copies of documents corrected for typographical or other errors, and duplicates of documents.

Circumstances include the following:

- The engaging party is not the responsible party
- Other than the engaging party, no other party has agreed to the procedures and acknowledged that the procedures are appropriate for their purposes.

Independent Accountant’s Report

[Appropriate Addressee]

We were engaged by [the engaging party, for example, ABC Company] to perform the procedures enumerated below on [identify the subject matter, for example, the cash and accounts receivable of XYZ Company as of December 31, 20XX, included in the accompanying information provided to us by management of ABC Company]. [The responsible party, for example, XYZ Company] is responsible for [the subject matter].

The procedures performed were those agreed to and acknowledged by [the engaging party, for example, ABC Company] to be appropriate to meet the purpose, as determined by [the engaging party], of [identify the intended purpose of the engagement; for example assisting users in understanding cash and accounts receivable of XYZ Company as of December 31, 20XX, included in the accompanying information provided to us by management of ABC Company]. This report may not be suitable for any other purpose. The procedures performed may not address all of the items of interest to a user of this report and may not meet the needs of all users of this report and, as such, users are responsible for determining whether the procedures performed are appropriate for their intended purpose.

An agreed-upon procedures engagement involves our performing specific procedures that [the engaging party] has agreed to and acknowledged to be appropriate for the purpose of the engagement and reporting on findings based on the procedures performed.

The procedures and the associated findings are as follows:

Cash

1. For the four bank accounts listed below, we obtained
 - a. the December 31, 20XX, bank reconciliations from XYZ Company management and
 - b. the December 31, 20XX, general ledger from XYZ Company management.

2. We performed the following procedures:

- a. Obtained a bank confirmation directly from each bank of the cash on deposit as of December 31, 20XX
- b. Compared the balance confirmed by the bank to the amount shown on the respective bank reconciliations.
- c. Mathematically checked the bank reconciliations
- d. Compared the cash balances per book listed in the reconciliations below to the respective general ledger account balances.

Cash, December 31, 20XX	Cash Balance per Book
Bank
DEF National Bank, general ledger account 123	$ 5,000
LMN State Bank, general ledger account 124	3,776
RST Trust Company regular account, general ledger account 125	86,912
RST Trust Company payroll account, general ledger account 126	5,000
	$ 110,688

We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures.

Accounts Receivable

- 3. We obtained the accounts receivable aged trial balance as of December 31, 20XX, from XYZ Company (attached as exhibit A). We mathematically checked that the individual customer account balance subtotals in the aged trial balance of accounts receivable agreed to the total accounts receivable per the aged trial balance. We compared the total accounts receivable per the accounts receivable aged trial balance to the total accounts receivable per general ledger account 250.

We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures.

- 4. We obtained the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger as of December 31, 20XX, from XYZ Company. We compared the individual customer account balance subtotals shown in the accounts receivable aged trial balance (exhibit A) as of December 31, 20XX, to the balances shown in the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger.

We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures

5. We selected 50 customer account balances from exhibit A by starting at the eighth item and selecting every fifteenth item thereafter until 50 were selected. The sample size selected represents 9.8 percent of the aggregate amount of the customer account balances. We obtained the corresponding invoices from XYZ Company and traced the aging (according to invoice dates) for the 50 customer account balances shown in exhibit A to the details of outstanding invoices in the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger.

We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures.

6. We mailed confirmations directly to the customers representing the 150 largest customer account balance subtotals selected from the accounts receivable aged trial balance, and we received responses as indicated below. As agreed, any individual differences in a customer account balance of less than $300 were to be considered minor, and no further procedures were performed.

Of the 150 customer balances confirmed, we received responses from 140 customers; 10 customers did not reply.

No exceptions were identified in 120 of the confirmations received. The differences in the remaining 20 confirmation replies were less than $300.

For the 10 customers that did not reply, we traced the items constituting the outstanding customer account balance to invoices and supporting shipping documents.

A summary of the confirmation results according to the respective aging categories is as follows.

Aging Categories	Accounts Receivable December 31, 20XX
	Customer Account Balances	Confirmations Requested	Confirmations Received
Current	$ 156,000	$ 76,000	$65,000
Past due:
Less than one month	60,000	30,000	19,000
One to three months	36,000	18,000	10,000
Over three months	48,000	48,000	8,000
	$300,000	$172,000	$102,000

This agreed-upon procedures engagement was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We were not engaged to and did not conduct an examination or review engagement, the objective of which would be the expression of an opinion or conclusion, respectively, on [identify the subject matter]. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion or conclusion. Had we performed additional procedures, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you.

Appendix — Amendments to AT-C section 105, Concepts Common to All Attestation Engagements

.01 This section applies to engagements in which a CPA in the practice of public accounting is engaged to issue, or does issue, a practitioner's examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures report on subject matter or a practitioner's examination or review report on an assertion about subject matter (hereinafter referred to as an assertion) that is the responsibility of another party. (Ref: par. .A1)

~~.02 An attestation engagement is predicated on the concept that a party other than the practitioner makes an assertion about whether the subject matter is measured or evaluated in accordance with suitable criteria. Section 205, Examination Engagements; section 210, Review Engagements; and section 215, Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagements, require the practitioner to request such an assertion in writing when performing an examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures engagement.¹⁰ In examination and review engagements, when the engaging party is the responsible party, the responsible party's refusal to provide a written assertion requires the practitioner to withdraw from the engagement when withdrawal is possible under applicable laws and regulations¹¹ In examination and review engagements, when the engaging party is not the responsible party and the responsible party refuses to provide a written assertion, the practitioner need not withdraw from the engagement but is required to disclose that refusal in the practitioner's report and restrict the use of the report to the engaging party.¹² In an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the responsible party's refusal to provide a written assertion requires the practitioner to disclose that refusal in the report.¹³ The purpose of an examination or review attestation engagement is to provide users of information with an opinion or conclusion regarding subject matter or an assertion about the subject matter, as measured against suitable and available criteria. An examination engagement results in an opinion and a review engagement results in a conclusion. The purpose of an agreed-upon procedures engagement results is to provide users of information with the results of procedures performed by the practitioner on subject matter. An agreed-upon procedures engagement results in findings.~~

- d. Implement quality control procedures at the engagement level that provide the practitioner with reasonable assurance that the attestation engagement complies with professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Definitions

.10 For purposes of the attestation standards, the following terms have the meanings attributed as follows:

Attestation engagement. An examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures engagement ~~performed under the attestation standards~~ related to subject matter, or an examination or review related to an assertion ~~that is the responsibility of another party~~ performed under the attestation standards. The following are the three types of attestation engagements:

- a. Examination engagement. An attestation engagement in which the practitioner obtains reasonable assurance by obtaining sufficient appropriate evidence about the measurement or evaluation of subject matter against criteria in order to be able to draw reasonable conclusions on which to base the practitioner's opinion about whether the subject matter is in accordance with (or based on) the criteria or the assertion is fairly stated, in all material respects. (Ref: par. .A7)

- b. Review engagement. An attestation engagement in which the practitioner obtains limited assurance by obtaining sufficient appropriate review evidence about the measurement or evaluation of subject matter against criteria in order to express a conclusion about whether any material modification should be made to the subject matter in order for it be in accordance with (or based on) the criteria or to the assertion in order for it to be fairly stated. (Ref: par. .A8)
- c. Agreed-upon procedures engagement. An attestation engagement in which a practitioner performs specific procedures on subject matter ~~or an assertion~~ and reports the findings without providing an opinion or a conclusion on it. ~~The parties to the engagement (specified party), as defined later in this paragraph, agree upon and are responsible for the sufficiency of the procedures for their purposes.~~

In certain engagements, a misstatement may be referred to as a deviation, exception, or instance of noncompliance.

Subject matter. In an examination or review, F the phenomenon that is measured or evaluated by applying criteria. In an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the phenomenon upon which procedures are performed.

[No amendment to paragraphs .11-.24.]

- .25 In order to establish that the preconditions for an attestation engagement are present, the practitioner should determine both of the following:
- a. Whether t ~~The~~ responsible party is a party other than the practitioner and takes responsibility for the subject matter. (Ref: par. A35-A37)
 - b. Whether t ~~The~~ engagement exhibits all of the following characteristics:
 - i. The subject matter is appropriate. (Ref: par. ~~A36A38-.A41A43~~)

- ii. In an examination or review engagement, ~~the~~ criteria to be applied in the preparation and evaluation of the subject matter are suitable and will be available to the intended users. (Ref: par. ~~A42A44–A52A54~~)
- iii. The practitioner expects to be able to obtain the evidence needed to arrive at the practitioner's opinion, conclusion, or findings, including (Ref: par. ~~A53A55–A54A56~~)
 - (1) access to all information of which the ~~responsible~~ appropriate party is aware that is relevant to the measurement, evaluation, or disclosure of the subject matter;
 - (2) access to additional information that the practitioner may request from the ~~responsible~~ appropriate party for the purpose of the engagement; and
 - (3) unrestricted access to persons within the appropriate party(ies) from whom the practitioner determines it necessary to obtain evidence.
- iv. The practitioner's opinion, conclusion, or findings, in the form appropriate to the engagement, is to be contained in a written practitioner's report.

[No amendment to paragraphs .26-.A1.]

~~.A2A3~~ The attestation standards do not apply to litigation services that involve pending or potential legal or regulatory proceedings before a trier of fact when the practitioner has not been engaged to issue, and does not issue, a practitioner's examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures report on subject matter or an assertion that is the responsibility of another party and any of the following Examples of litigation services include the following circumstances exist:

- a. ~~The~~ service comprises being an expert witness.
- b. ~~The~~ service comprises being a trier of fact or acting on behalf of one.
- c. ~~The~~ practitioner's work under the rules of the proceedings is subject to detailed analysis and challenge by each party to the dispute.
- d. ~~The~~ practitioner is engaged by an attorney to do work that will be protected by the attorney's work product or attorney-client privilege, and such work is not intended to be used for other purposes.

~~.A3A2~~ Because performance audits performed pursuant to Government Auditing Standards do not require a practitioner's examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures report as described in this section, this section does not apply to performance audits unless the practitioner engaged to conduct a performance audit is also engaged to conduct an AICPA attestation engagement or issues such an examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures report.

[No amendment to paragraphs .A3-.A27.]

.A28 Some report forms can be made acceptable by inserting additional wording to include the elements required by sections 205, 210, and 215.² Some report forms required by law or regulation can be made acceptable only by complete revision because the prescribed language of the practitioner's report calls for statements by the practitioner that are not consistent with the practitioner's function or responsibility, for example, a report form that requests the practitioner to "certify" the subject matter.

Roles and Responsibilities (Ref: par. .25)

.A35 All attestation engagements have an engaging party, a responsible party, the practitioner, and intended users. In some attestation engagements, the engaging party is different from the responsible party.

[Paragraph .A35 is renumbered to paragraph .A36. The content is unchanged.]

.A37 Evidence that the appropriate relationship exists with respect to responsibility for the subject matter may be obtained through an acknowledgment provided by the responsible party. Such an acknowledgment also establishes a basis for a common understanding of the responsibilities of the responsible party and the practitioner. A written acknowledgment is the most appropriate form of documenting the responsible party's understanding. In the absence of a written acknowledgment of responsibility, it may still be appropriate for the practitioner to accept the engagement if, for example, other sources, such as legislation or a contract, indicate responsibility. In other cases, it may be appropriate to decline the engagement depending on the circumstances or disclose the circumstances in the attestation report.

~~.A39~~A41 Different subject matters have different characteristics, including the degree to which information about them is qualitative versus quantitative, objective versus subjective, historical versus prospective, and relates to a point in time or covers a period. Such characteristics affect the following:

- b.* The persuasiveness of available evidence

[Paragraphs .A40-.A53 are renumbered to paragraphs .A42-.A55. The content is unchanged.]

~~.A54~~A56 The quantity or quality of available evidence is affected by both of the following:

- a.* The characteristics of the subject matter, for example, less objective evidence might be expected when the subject matter is future-oriented, rather than historical
- b.* Other circumstances, such as when evidence that could reasonably be expected to exist is not available, for example, because of the timing of the practitioner's appointment, an entity's document retention policy, inadequate information systems, or a restriction imposed by the responsible or engaging party
