AS 1210: Using the Work of an Auditor-Engaged Specialist	AS 1201 Appendix C – Supervision of the Work of Auditor-Employed Specialists	AU-C 620, Using the Work of an Auditor's Specialist	TF Decision Re: amendment to GAAS
Note: the PCAOB standards differentiate between an auditor-engaged specialist and an auditor-employed specialist; GAAS uses the term auditor's specialist to refer to both. There are no substantive differences (and very few minor differences) between AS 1201 Appendix C and AS 1210. The notable difference relates to the auditor's assessment of the knowledge, skill, ability, and objectivity of an auditor-employed specialist (where the auditor may be able to leverage an audit firm's or network's quality control system to perform these assessments).
Introduction
.01 This standard establishes requirements regarding the use of a specialist engaged by the auditor's firm ("auditor-engaged specialist") to assist the auditor in obtaining or evaluating audit evidence with respect to a relevant assertion of a significant account or disclosure.	.C1 For engagements in which a specialist employed by the auditor's firm ("auditor employed specialist") assists the auditor in obtaining or evaluating audit evidence with respect to a relevant assertion of a significant account or disclosure, this appendix describes supervisory activities to be performed in conjunction with supervising the work of an auditor-employed specialist in an audit. The requirements in this appendix supplement the requirements in paragraphs .05–.06 of this standard.	.01 This section addresses the auditor's responsibilities relating to the work of an individual or organization possessing expertise in a field other than accounting or auditing when that work is used to assist the auditor in obtaining sufficient appropriate audit evidence.	NA
(.01) Note: For purposes of this standard, a specialist is a person (or firm) possessing special skill or knowledge in a particular field other than accounting or auditing. The former is not a specialist for the purposes of this section because this constitutes accounting expertise; the latter is a specialist for the purposes of this section because this constitutes legal expertise. 02 This section does not address <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. situations in which the engagement team includes a member or consults an individual or organization with expertise in a specialized area of accounting or auditing, which are addressed in section 220, Quality Control for an Engagement Conducted</li> </ul>

For example, when evaluating the competence, capabilities, and objectivity of an auditor's specialist, it may be that the specialist is an organization the auditor has previously used, but the auditor has no prior experience with the individual specialist assigned by the organization for the particular engagement, or it may be the reverse (that is, the auditor may be familiar with the work of an individual specialist but not with the organization that specialist has joined). In either case, both the personal attributes of the individual and the managerial attributes of the organization (such as systems of quality control the organization implements) may be relevant to the auditor's evaluation. A22 If the auditor believes a relationship between the entity and the auditor's specialist might impair the	Equivalent; added- highlighted sentences to par. Exhibit B, AS 1105 Appendix A to Management Specialist Content in GAAS (extant AU-C 500; AU-C 501 as amended by SAS No. 142)
ASB Meeting, October 19-22, 2020

This table maps AS 1105 Appendix A and the amendment to AS 2110 to extant AU-C 500, paragraphs .08 and .A35-.A49. These paragraphs were not considered in drafting SAS No. 142, Audit Evidence, which amends these paragraphs by moving them to AU-C section 501 without any changes to the text

AS 1105, Appendix A	Extant AU-C sec. 500 unless otherwise noted	Task Force Comments
.A1 This appendix describes the auditor's responsibilities with respect to using the work of a specialist, employed or engaged by the company ("company's specialist"), as audit evidence to support a conclusion regarding a relevant assertion of a significant account or disclosure. The requirements in this appendix supplement the requirements of this standard.	Introduction	NA
(A1) Note: For purposes of this standard, a specialist is a person (or firm) possessing special skill or knowledge in a particular field other than accounting or auditing. This appendix does not apply when the auditor uses the work of a person with specialized skill or knowledge in income taxes <sup>1</sup> or information technology as audit evidence. <sup>2</sup>	Management's specialist. An individual or organization possessing expertise in a field other than accounting or auditing, whose work in that field is used by the entity to assist the entity in preparing the financial statements.	Sufficiently comparable
1 A note to AS 2505.08 describes the auditor's responsibility regarding the use of written advice or opinion of a company's tax advisor or a company's tax legal counsel as audit evidence.		Cross-reference not necessary to add to GAAS
2 This is consistent with the treatment of persons with specialized skill or knowledge in income taxes and information technology who are employed or engaged by auditors. See Appendix C of AS 1201, Supervision of the Audit Engagement , and AS 1210, Using the Work of an Auditor-Engaged Specialist .	NA	Cross-reference not necessary to add to GAAS

(A1) Note (2): This appendix does not apply to information provided by a company's attorney concerning litigation, claims, or assessments that is used by the auditor pursuant to AS 2505, Inquiry of a Client's Lawyer Concerning Litigation, Claims, and Assessments. This appendix applies when an auditor uses the work of a company's attorney as audit evidence in other matters relating to legal expertise, such as when a legal interpretation of a contractual provision or a legal opinion regarding isolation of transferred financial assets is necessary to determine appropriate accounting or disclosure under the applicable financial reporting framework.	NA
.A2 The requirements in AS 2110, Identifying and Assessing Risks of Material Misstatement, for obtaining an understanding of the company's information system relevant to financial reporting include obtaining an understanding of the work and report(s), or equivalent communication, of the company's specialist(s) and related company processes and controls.<sup>3</sup>		Cross-reference not necessary to add to GAAS

AS 2505, Inquiry of a Client's Lawyer Concerning Litigation, Claims, and Assessments	AU-C 620
Note: The opinion of legal counsel on specific tax issues that he or she is asked to address and to which he or she has devoted substantive attention, as contemplated by this standard, is sometimes necessary evidence to support the auditor's conclusions on significant income tax accounts and disclosures. However, the audit of income tax accounts and disclosures requires a combination of tax expertise and knowledge about the client's business that is accumulated during all aspects of an audit. Therefore, it is not appropriate for the auditor to rely solely on such legal opinion with respect to those tax issues without performing his or her own evaluation of matters related to the significant tax accounts and disclosures in the financial statements, taking into account the relevant tax and accounting requirements, his or her understanding of the company and its environment, and other relevant evidence obtained during the audit.<sup>5A</sup> Appendix A to AS 1105, Audit Evidence, applies when an auditor uses the work of a company's attorney as audit evidence in matters relating to legal expertise other than litigation, claims, and assessments (which are covered under this standard) and income taxes. For example, Appendix A to AS 1105 applies when a legal interpretation of a contractual provision or a legal opinion regarding isolation of transferred financial assets is necessary to determine appropriate accounting or disclosure under the applicable financial reporting framework. <sup>5A</sup> Similarly, the written advice of a company's tax advisor on material matters affecting the tax accrual is sometimes necessary evidence to support the auditor's conclusions on the significant accounts and disclosures related to income taxes. As with legal opinions on tax matters, the auditor cannot rely solely on that written advice from tax advisors without performing his or her own evaluation of matters related to the significant tax accounts and disclosures in the financial statements.	620.A2 In many cases, distinguishing between expertise in accounting or auditing and expertise in another field will be straightforward, even when this involves a specialized area of accounting or auditing.<sup>fn 5</sup> For example, an individual with expertise in applying methods of accounting for deferred income tax can often be easily distinguished from a specialist in taxation law. The former is not a specialist for the purposes of this section because this constitutes accounting expertise; the latter is a specialist for the purposes of this section because this constitutes legal expertise.	Equivalent
