Draft of Proposed AT-C-215, Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagements (Marked From Extant)

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
Introduction	Introduction (Ref: par. 03)
.01 This section contains performance and reporting requirements and application guidance for all agreed-upon procedures engagements. The requirements and guidance in this section supplement the requirements and guidance in section 105, Concepts Common to All Attestation Engagements.
.02 An agreed-upon procedures engagement is one in which a practitioner is engaged to issue, or does issue, a practitioner's report of findings based on specific agreed-upon procedures applied to subject matter for use by specified parties. Because the specified parties require that findings be independently derived, the services of a practitioner are obtained to perform procedures and report the practitioner's findings. The specified parties determine the procedures they believe to be appropriate to be applied by the practitioner. Because the needs of specified parties may vary widely, the nature, timing, and extent of the agreed-upon procedures may vary, as well; consequently, the specified parties assume responsibility for the sufficiency of the procedures because they best understand their own needs. The subject matter may be

financial or non-financial information. The procedures may be developed by the practitioner, the engaging party, another party, or a combination of these parties. The needs of engaging parties vary widely and the nature, timing, and extent of the agreed-upon procedures are therefore engagement specific and tailored to meet the engaging party’s needs. Because they best understand their own needs, the engaging party is required to acknowledge that the procedures performed are appropriate for the intended purpose of the engagement prior to issuance of the practitioner’s agreed-upon procedures report. In an engagement performed under in accordance with this section, the practitioner does not perform an examination or a review limited assurance engagement and does not provide an opinion or conclusion. Instead, the report on agreed-upon procedures is in the form of procedures and findings.
.03 When a practitioner performs services pursuant to an engagement to apply agreed-upon procedures to subject matter as part of or in addition to another form of service, this section applies only to those services described herein; other professional standards would apply to the other services. Other services may include an audit, review, or compilation of a financial statement, another attestation service performed pursuant to the attestation standards, or a nonattestation service. A practitioner’s report on applying agreed-upon procedures to subject matter may be combined with a report on such other services, provided the types of services can be clearly distinguished, and the applicable standards for each service are followed. (Ref: par.)	A1 A practitioner may issue a single combined practitioner’s report that includes (a) a practitioner’s report on subject matter or a presentation that requires a restriction on use to specified parties and (b) a report on subject matter or a presentation that ordinarily does not require such a restriction. The use of such a single combined report may be restricted to the specified parties. In some instances, a separate restricted use report may be included in a document that also contains a general use report. The inclusion of a separate restricted use report in a document that contains a general use report does not affect the intended use of either report. The restricted use report remains restricted as to use, and the general use report continues to be for general use.
.04 This section does not apply to engagements to issue letters (commonly referred to as comfort letters) to underwriters and certain other requesting parties.^{fn1} ^{fn1} See AU-C section 920, Letters for Underwriters and Certain Other Requesting Parties (AICPA, Professional Standards).
Effective Date

Commented [MG1]: Concept is moved to application paragraph under the Alert That Restricts the Use of the Practitioner’s Agreed-Upon Procedures Report.

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
.05 This section is effective for agreed-upon procedures reports dated on or after Month X, 2017Month DD, YYYY.
Objectives	Objectives (Ref: par. .6a)
.06 In conducting an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the objectives of the practitioner are to <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. apply to the subject matter specific procedures to subject matter that are established by specified parties who are responsible for the sufficiency of the procedures for their purposes; (Ref: par. .A2) b. issue a written practitioner’s report that describes the procedures applied and the practitioner’s findings without providing an opinion or conclusion on the subject matter; and c. communicate further as required by relevant AT-C sections. 	.A2 In an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the practitioner applies procedures to the subject matter of the engagement. Even though the procedures are established by the specified parties, the requirements and guidance related to the subject matter and criteria in section 105 apply.
Definition
.07 For purposes of this section, the following term has the meaning attributed as follows: Nonparticipant party. An additional specified party the practitioner is requested to add as a user of the practitioner’s report subsequent to the completion of the agreed-upon procedures engagement. (The term specified party is defined in section 105.⁴)
Requirements
Conduct of an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement	Conduct of an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement (Ref: par. .0807-.08, -10, and 14d)
.08.07 In performing an agreed-upon procedures engagement, the practitioner should comply with this section, section 105, and any subject-matter section that is relevant to the engagement. A subject-matter AT-C section is relevant to the engagement when it is in effect, and the circumstances addressed by the AT-C section exist. (Ref: par. 0A4.A1)	.A3.A1 For example, if a practitioner were performing agreed-upon procedures related to an entity’s compliance with requirements of specified laws, regulations, rules, contracts, or grants, section 105, this section, and section 315, Compliance Attestation, would be relevant.

⁴. Paragraph .10 of section 105, Concepts Common to All Attestation Engagements.

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
	.A4 Although independence is required for agreed-upon procedures engagements, the “Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagements Performed in Accordance With SSAEs” interpretation (AICPA, Professional Standards, ET sec. 1.297.020.), establishes independence requirements unique to such engagements.
Preconditions for an Agreed-Upon Procedures Engagement Independence .09–08 Section 105 indicates that a practitioner must be independent when performing an attestation engagement in accordance with the attestation standards unless the practitioner is required by law or regulation to accept the engagement and report on the subject matter or assertion.^{fn2} When the practitioner is not independent but is required by law or regulation to accept an agreed-upon procedures engagement and report on the procedures performed and findings obtained, the practitioner’s report should specifically state that the practitioner is not independent. The practitioner is neither required to provide, nor precluded from providing, the reasons for the lack of independence; however, if the practitioner chooses to provide the reasons for the lack of independence, the practitioner should include all the reasons therefor. (Ref: par. A2) ^{fn2} Paragraph .10 of section 105, Concepts Common to All Attestation Engagements.	.A2 The “Agreed- Upon Procedures Engagements Performed in Accordance With SSAEs” interpretation (AICPA, Professional Standards, ET sec. 1.297.020.), establishes independence requirements unique to agreed-upon procedures engagements.
.10 In order to establish that the preconditions for an agreed-upon procedures engagement are present, the practitioner should determine that the following conditions, in addition to the preconditions identified in section 105, are present:² (Ref: par. A5 A6) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The specified parties agree on the procedures performed, or to be performed, by the practitioner. b. The specified parties take responsibility for the sufficiency of the agreed-upon procedures for their purposes. (Ref: par. A6) 	.A5 To satisfy the requirements that the specified parties agree upon, the procedures performed or to be performed, and that the specified parties take responsibility for the sufficiency of the agreed-upon procedures for their purposes, the practitioner ordinarily communicates directly with and obtains affirmative acknowledgment from each of the specified parties. For example, this may be accomplished by meeting with the specified parties or by distributing a draft of the anticipated practitioner’s report or a copy of an

e. The practitioner determines that the procedures can be performed and reported on in accordance with this section. d. The procedures to be applied to the subject matter are expected to result in reasonably consistent findings using the criteria. e. When applicable, the practitioner agrees to apply any materiality limits established by the specified parties for reporting purposes. f. Use of the practitioner's report is to be restricted to the specified parties.	engagement letter to the specified parties and obtaining their agreement. If the practitioner is not able to communicate directly with all the specified parties, the practitioner may satisfy these requirements by applying any one or more of the following or similar procedures: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> — Compare the procedures to be applied to written requirements of the specified parties. — Discuss the procedures to be applied with appropriate representatives of the specified parties involved. — Review relevant contracts with or correspondence from the specified parties.
.11 The practitioner should not accept an agreed-upon procedures engagement when the specified parties do not agree upon the procedures performed, or to be performed, or do not take responsibility for the sufficiency of the procedures for their purposes. (See paragraphs .33-.35 for the requirements and related application guidance on satisfying these requirements when the practitioner is requested to add a nonparticipant party.) (Ref: par. A6)	.A6 Specified parties are responsible for the sufficiency (nature, timing, and extent) of the agreed-upon procedures because they best understand their own needs. The specified parties assume the risk that such procedures might be insufficient for their purposes. In addition, the specified parties assume the risk that they might misunderstand or otherwise inappropriately use findings properly reported by the practitioner.
Agreeing on the Terms of the Engagement	Agreeing on the Terms of the Engagement (Ref: par. .12-09-10 and .17-14b and e)
.12-09 The practitioner should agree upon the terms of the engagement with the engaging party. The agreed-upon terms of the engagement should be specified in sufficient detail in an engagement letter or other suitable form of written agreement. (Ref: par. A7A3)	.A7-A3 It is in the interests of both the engaging party and the practitioner to document the agreed upon terms of the engagement before the commencement of the engagement to help avoid misunderstandings. The form and content of the engagement letter or other suitable form of written agreement will vary with the engagement circumstances.
.13 The agreement should be addressed to the engaging party.
.14-10 The agreed-upon terms of the engagement should include the following: a. The nature of the engagement	.A8 The criteria may be indicated in the procedures as opposed to being described separately.

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
b. Identification of the subject matter or assertion, the responsible party, and the criteria to be used (Ref: par.) c. Identification of specified parties d. Acknowledgment by the specified parties of their responsibility for the sufficiency of the procedures (Ref: par.) b. The responsibilities of the practitioner (Ref: par.—.A4 - .A6) f.c. A statement that the engagement will be conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants d. The responsible party is responsible for the subject matter in accordance with (or based on) the criteria; and (Ref: par. .A7-.A10)	.A4 The practitioner’s responsibilities may include recommending or assisting in developing the procedures to be performed. .A9 .A5 The responsibility of the practitioner is to carry out the procedures and report the findings in accordance with the attestation standards. The practitioner assumes the risk that misapplication of the procedures may result in inappropriate findings being reported. Furthermore, the practitioner assumes the risk that appropriate findings may not be reported or may be reported inaccurately. The practitioner’s risks can be reduced through adequate planning and supervision and due professional care in performing the procedures, accumulating the findings, and preparing the practitioner’s report. .A10 A6 If the procedures are prescribed or otherwise developed by parties other than the practitioner, The the practitioner has no responsibility to determine the differences between the agreed upon procedures to be performed and the procedures that the practitioner would have determined to be necessary had the practitioner been engaged to perform another form of attestation engagement had the ability to perform additional or alternative procedures. The procedures that the practitioner agrees to perform performs pursuant to an agreed-upon procedures engagement may be more or less extensive than the procedures that the practitioner would determine to be necessary had he or she been engaged to perform another form of engagement. .A7 A practitioner may also be engaged, as a separate service, to assist the responsible party in measuring or evaluating the subject matter against the criteria.

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
e. A statement that the procedures that will be performed will not constitute an examination or a limited assurance attestation engagement (or an audit or review of financial statements, if applicable) and accordingly, the practitioner will not express an opinion or a conclusion f. Identification of the following: i. The intended purpose of the engagement as determined by the engaging party; (Ref: par. A11)	.A8. Regardless of the procedures performed by the practitioner when assisting the responsible party in measuring or evaluating the subject matter, the responsible party is required to accept responsibility for the subject matter in accordance with (or based on) the criteria. .A9 There may be circumstances in which the party(ies) responsible for the subject matter are not a party to the engagement. For example, the practitioner may be engaged to perform procedures with respect to a benchmarking certain information in which multiple entities may be responsible for certain aspects of the information, or the information may be publicly available, such as subject matter that appears on the Internet or in a public building such as a grocery or retail store. If the practitioner is engaged to benchmark the prices of ten products at three different stores on a certain date, each of the stores may be responsible for the source of the subject matter and the price that is published on the shelf. As another example, if the practitioner is engaged to count the ballots of an election, although a party may be responsible for the voting process, such party is not responsible for the subject matter of the outcome of the election. .A10 The engaging party may request that the practitioner recommend or assist in the development of criteria for the engagement. The engaging party is deemed to have identified the criteria if they agree to the criteria that the practitioner recommended or assisted in the development of. .A11 The intended purpose of the engagement is determined by the engaging party and is the use for which the practitioner's report is intended. The engagement may be related to law, regulation, or contract or from a request by a third party or may be the result of the engaging party providing information to a broad class of users such

However, the practitioner may advise the engaging part that it expects that the engaging party will communicate with expected users of the practitioner's agreed-upon procedures report to ascertain whether the procedures are appropriate for the users' purposes. .A13 If the procedures are prescribed or otherwise developed by parties other than the practitioner, the agreed-upon terms of the engagement may include the procedures to be performed.
Requesting a Written Assertion .15 The practitioner should request from the responsible party a written assertion about the measurement or evaluation of the subject matter against the criteria. (Ref: par. .A11 .A15)	Requesting a Written Assertion (Ref: par. .15 .16) .A11 Situations may arise in which the current responsible party was not present during some or all of the period covered by the practitioner's report. Such persons may contend that they are not in a position to provide a written assertion that covers the entire period because they were not in place during some or all of the period. This

	fact, however, does not diminish such persons' responsibilities for the subject matter as a whole. Accordingly, the requirement for the practitioner to request a written assertion from the responsible party that covers the entire relevant period(s) still applies. .A12 Paragraph .28a requires the practitioner to request a written representation from the responsible party that is the same as the responsible party's assertion. If the responsible party provides the practitioner with the written representation in paragraph .28a, the practitioner need not request a separate written assertion, unless a separate written assertion is called for by the engagement circumstances. .A13 In an agreed upon procedures engagement, the procedures that the practitioner is asked to perform frequently consist of comparing information from one source with information from another source to determine whether they agree. For that reason, the criteria identified in the assertion might be the agreement of one amount with another amount. .A14 The following are examples of assertions the responsible party might make related to accounts receivable in the engagement that results in the practitioner's report illustrated in example 2 of paragraph .A48: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▲ General ledger account 250, "Accounts Receivable," as of December 31, 20XX, accurately summarizes the accounts receivable aged trial balance, which accurately summarizes individual customer account balances as of that date.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The accounts receivable subsidiary ledger as of December 31, 20XX accurately summarizes individual account balances in the aged trial balance of accounts receivable as of that date. • The aged trial balance of accounts receivable as of December 31, 20XX, accurately ages outstanding invoices in the accounts receivable subledger as of that date. • The accounts receivable trial balance as of December 31, 20XX, accurately summarizes amounts due from customers at that date. Alternatively, a single assertion such as the following might be appropriate: • The accounts receivable aged trial balance as of December 31, 20XX, accurately presents the general ledger balance and the amounts and ages of individual customer balances as of that date. • Additional assertions would be necessary for the engagement resulting in the report in example 2 of paragraph .A48, for example, an assertion about cash, or in the case of a single assertion, the assertion would need to be modified to address cash. .A15 Paragraph .36 contains reporting requirements for situations in which the responsible party refuses to provide the practitioner with a written assertion.
.16 If the engaging party is not the responsible party, and the practitioner is aware that the responsible party refuses to provide the practitioner with a written assertion, the written agreement required by paragraph .12 should make clear that no such assertion will be provided to the practitioner. (Ref: par. .A15)
Procedures to Be Performed	Procedures to Be Performed (Ref: par. .17-11-.12 .15 and -.19)

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
.17-11 The practitioner should perform procedures designed to meet the intended purpose of the engagement as determined by the engaging party and included in the agreed-upon terms of the engagement agreed upon pursuant to paragraph g should specify the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures. (Ref: par.A16A14-.A20A19)	.A14 The procedures to be performed may be developed by the practitioner, the engaging party, another party, or a combination of these parties. Further, the procedures may be prescribed by law, regulation, or contract. .A16A15 -The procedures that the practitioner and specified parties agree upon may be as limited or as extensive as the specified parties desire. However, mMere reading of an assertion or specified information about the subject matter does not constitute a procedure sufficient to permit a practitioner to report on the results of applying agreed-upon procedures.
	.A17A16 Examples of appropriate procedures include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · Inspection of specified documents evidencing certain types of transactions or detailed attributes thereof · Confirmation of specific information with third parties · Comparison of documents, schedules, or analyses with certain specified attributes · Performance of specific procedures on work performed by others · Performance of mathematical computations
	.A18A17 Examples of inappropriate procedures include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · Mere reading of the work performed by others solely to describe their findings · Evaluating the competency or objectivity of another party · Obtaining an understanding about a particular subject · Interpreting documents outside the scope of the practitioner’s professional expertise
	.A19A18 -If the practitioner is selecting a sample, stating the size of the sample and how the selection was made (after agreement by the

	A20-A19 Examples of other information the practitioner may include are the date the procedure was performed and the sources of information used in performing the procedure.
.18 In some circumstances, the procedures agreed upon evolve or are modified over the course of the engagement. In such circumstances, the practitioner should amend the engagement letter or other suitable form of written agreement, as applicable, to reflect the modified procedures.
.19-12 The practitioner should use professional judgment determining whether the descriptions of the procedures are sufficiently precise and clear. The practitioner should not agree to perform procedures that are open to varying interpretations or that use vague or ambiguous language. Terms of uncertain meaning (such as general review, limited review, check, or test) should not be used in describing the procedures unless such terms are defined within the agreed-upon procedures. (Ref: par. A21A20)	.A21-A20 To avoid vague or ambiguous language, the procedures to be performed are characterized by the action to be taken at a level of specificity sufficient for a reader to understand the nature and extent of the procedures performed. Examples of acceptable descriptions of actions are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · Inspect · Confirm · Compare · Agree · Trace · Inquire · Recalculate · Observe · Mathematically check Conversely, the following descriptions of actions (unless defined to indicate the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures associated with these actions) generally are not acceptable because they are not sufficiently precise or have an uncertain meaning:

.21-14 The practitioner and the specified parties engaging party should explicitly agree to the involvement of a practitioner’s external specialist if assisting a practitioner in the performance of an agreed-upon procedures engagement. (Ref: par. .A22A21-.A24A23)	.A22-A21 The practitioner’s education and experience enable the practitioner to be knowledgeable about business matters in general, but the practitioner is not expected to have the expertise of a person trained for or qualified to engage in the practice of another profession or occupation. In certain circumstances, it may be appropriate to involve a practitioner’s external specialist to assist the practitioner in the performance of one or more procedures. The following are examples of such circumstances: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · An attorney providing assistance concerning the interpretation of legal terminology in laws, regulations, rules, contracts, or grants

	.A24 .A23 A practitioner may agree to apply procedures to the report or work product of a practitioner’s external specialist that does not constitute assistance by the external specialist to the practitioner in an agreed-upon procedures engagement. For example, the practitioner may make reference to information contained in a report of a practitioner’s external specialist in describing an agreed-upon procedure. However, it is inappropriate for the practitioner to agree to merely read the external specialist’s report solely to describe or repeat the findings or to take responsibility for all or a portion of any procedures performed by a practitioner’s external specialist or the external specialist’s work product.

Using the Work of Internal Auditors or Other Practitioners	Using the Work of Internal Auditors or Other Practitioners (Ref: par. 0.2316)
.23–16 The agreed-upon procedures to be enumerated or referred to in the practitioner’s report should be performed entirely by the engagement team or other practitioners. (Ref: par. .A25A24-.A27A26)	.A25–A24 Internal auditors or other personnel may prepare schedules and accumulate data or provide other information for the practitioner’s use in performing the agreed-upon procedures. Also, internal auditors may perform and report separately on procedures that they have carried out. Such procedures may be similar to those that a practitioner may perform under this section.
	.A26–A25 A practitioner may agree to perform procedures on information documented in the working papers of internal auditors. For example, the practitioner may agree to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · repeat all or some of the procedures. · determine whether the internal auditors’ documentation indicates procedures performed and whether the findings documented are presented in a report by the internal auditors.

For example, the practitioner may decide to restrict the use of the practitioner’s report to certain specified users and wants acknowledgement from those specified parties that the procedures performed are appropriate for their purposes. Additionally, if the engagement is related to a contract or regulation, the practitioner may want to confirm with the other parties to the contract or with the regulator that the procedures are appropriate for their purposes. Nothing precludes the practitioner and engaging party from agreeing to the type of communication or acknowledgment to be used and who would make the communication. However, if the practitioner intends to communicate directly with a party other than the engaging party, the rules regarding confidential information as set forth in the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct may apply.
Findings	Findings (Ref: par. .26-.27.20-.21)
.24-.19–A practitioner should present the results of applying agreed-upon procedures to specific subject matter in the form of findings.
.25 The practitioner’s report should not express an opinion or conclusion about whether the subject matter is in accordance with (or based on) the criteria or whether the assertion is fairly stated, for example, the report should not state,

“Nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the subject matter is not in accordance with (or based on) the criteria, in all material respects, or that the assertion is not fairly stated, in all material respects.”
.26-.20 The practitioner should report all findings from application of the agreed-upon procedures. Any agreed-uponspecified materiality limits should be described in the practitioner’s report. (Ref: par. A28A30)	.A28-A30 . The concept of materiality does not apply to findings to be reported in an agreed-upon procedures engagement unless the definition of materiality is agreed to by the specified parties. An example of language that describes a materiality limit is “For purposes of performing these agreed-upon procedures, no exceptions were reported for differences of $1,000 or less resulting solely from the rounding of amounts disclosed.”
.21 In reporting findings, the practitioner should (Ref: par. A34) a. not use vague or ambiguous language. (Ref: par. A31) b. not include terms of uncertain meaning. Commented [MG4]: We had added the phrase “or report that there were no findings from the application of the agreed-upon procedures.”

At the IASTF meeting we discussed that findings do not mean “exceptions” and instead are the equivalent of “results.” If that is the case, there is no need for the added language.

.31 The alert should do the following:

- a. State that the practitioner's report is intended solely for the information and use of the specified parties
- b. Identify the specified parties for whom use is intended (Ref: par. A56)
- ~~c. State that the report is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than the specified parties (Ref: par. A57–A59)~~

.A56 The practitioner may identify the specified parties by naming them, referring to a list of those parties, or identifying the class of parties, for example, "all customers of XYZ Company during some or all of the period January 1, 20XX, to December 31, 20XX." The method of identifying the specified parties is determined by the practitioner.

.A57 In some cases, the criteria used to measure or evaluate the subject matter may be designed for a specific purpose. For example, a regulator may require certain entities to use particular criteria designed for regulatory purposes. To avoid misunderstandings, the practitioner is required to alert users of the practitioner's report to this fact and, therefore, that the report is intended solely for the information and use of the specified parties.

.A58 The alert that restricts the use of the practitioner's report is designed to avoid misunderstandings related to the use of the report, particularly if the report is taken out of the context in which the report is intended to be used. A practitioner may consider informing the engaging party or other specified parties that the report is not intended for distribution to parties other than those specified in the report. The practitioner may, in connection with establishing the terms of the engagement, reach an understanding with the engaging party (and possibly with the specified parties) that the intended use of the report will be restricted and may obtain the engaging party's agreement that the engaging party and specified parties will not distribute such report to parties other than those identified therein. A practitioner cannot control, and is not responsible for controlling, distribution of the report after its release.

.A59 In some cases, a restricted-use practitioner's report filed with regulatory agencies is required by law or regulation to be made available to the public as a matter of public record. Also, a regulatory

Restrictions on the Performance of Procedures
.37 .33 -When circumstances impose restrictions on the performance of the agreed-upon procedures, the practitioner should attempt to obtain agreement from the specified parties for modification of the agreed-upon procedures. Adding Specified Parties (Nonparticipant Parties)	Adding Specified Parties (Nonparticipant Parties) (Ref: par. .33 .34)
.38 If the practitioner agrees to add a nonparticipant party, the practitioner should obtain affirmative acknowledgment, normally in writing, from the nonparticipant party agreeing to the procedures performed and of its taking responsibility for the sufficiency of the procedures. (Ref: par. .A44)	.A44 Subsequent to the completion of the agreed-upon procedures engagement, a practitioner may be requested by the engaging party to consider the addition of another party as a specified party (a nonparticipant party). The practitioner may agree to add a nonparticipant party as a specified party, based on consideration of such factors as the identity of the nonparticipant party and the intended use of the practitioner’s report. If the nonparticipant party is added after the practitioner has issued the report, the report may be reissued, or the practitioner may provide other written acknowledgment that the nonparticipant party has been added as a specified party.
.39 If the practitioner’s report is reissued to acknowledge the nonparticipant party, the date of the report should not be changed. (Ref: par. .A44)

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
.40 If the practitioner provides written acknowledgment that the nonparticipant party has been added as a specified party, such written acknowledgment ordinarily should state that no procedures have been performed subsequent to the date of the practitioner's report.
Knowledge of Matters Outside Agreed-Upon Procedures	Knowledge of Matters Outside Agreed-Upon Procedures (Ref: par. .4134)
.41 .34 -Although the practitioner need not perform procedures beyond the agreed-upon procedures, if in connection with the application, and through the completion of, the agreed-upon procedures engagement, matters come to the practitioner's attention by other means that significantly contradict the subject matter or assertion referred to in the practitioner's report, the practitioner should discuss the matter with the engaging party and determine whether include this matter in the practitioner's report should be revised to disclose the matter. (Ref: par. .A60 .A61)	.A45 .A60 For example, if, during the course of applying agreed-upon procedures regarding an entity's internal control, the practitioner becomes aware of a material weakness by means other than performance of the agreed-upon procedures, this matter would be included in the practitioner's report.
	.A46 .A61 When the practitioner applies agreed-upon procedures to an element, account, or item of a financial statement and has performed (or has been engaged to perform) an audit or review of the entity's related financial statements, and the practitioner's auditor's audit or review report on such financial statements includes a departure from the standard report, the practitioner may include a reference to the auditor's audit or review report and the departure from the standard report in the practitioner's agreed-upon procedures report.
Communication Responsibilities
.42 .35 -The practitioner should communicate to the responsible party known and suspected fraud and noncompliance with laws or regulations. When the engaging party is not the responsible party, the practitioner should also communicate this information to the engaging party.
Consideration of Subsequent Events	Consideration of Subsequent Events (Ref: par. 36)

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
.36 The practitioner should consider the effect on the subject matter and on the practitioner’s report of events up to the date of the report, and should respond appropriately to facts that become known to the practitioner after the date that, had they been known to the practitioner at that date, may have caused the practitioner to amend the report. The extent of consideration of subsequent events depends on the potential for such events to affect the subject matter and to affect the appropriateness of the practitioner’s findings. However, the practitioner has no responsibility to perform any procedures regarding the subject matter after the date of the report. (Ref: par. A62)	.A62 As noted in paragraph 36, the practitioner has no responsibility to perform any procedures regarding the subject matter after the date of the practitioner’s report. However, if, after the date of the report, a fact becomes known to the practitioner that, had it been known to the practitioner at the date of the report, may have caused the practitioner to amend the report, the practitioner may need to discuss the matter with the appropriate parties or take other action as appropriate in the circumstances.
Documentation	Documentation (Ref: par. 43, 37)
.43, .37 The practitioner should prepare engagement documentation on a timely basis that is sufficient to determine includes the following: (Ref: par. A47 A63, A64) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. the written acknowledgement from the engaging party regarding the appropriateness of the procedures performed for the intended purpose of the engagement, as required by paragraph 17the specified parties’ agreement on the procedures. ba. the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed to comply with relevant AT-C sections and applicable legal and regulatory requirements, including <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. the identifying characteristics of the specific items or matters tested; ii. who performed the engagement work and the date such work was completed; iii. when the engaging party is the responsible party and the responsible party will not provide one or more of the requested written representations or the practitioner concludes that there is sufficient doubt about the competence, integrity, ethical values, or diligence of those providing the written representations, or that the written representations are otherwise not reliable, the matters in paragraph 31 25a-c; iv. when the engaging party is not the responsible party and the responsible party will not provide the written representations 	.A63 Documentation prepared at the time work is performed or shortly thereafter of likely to be more accurate than documentation prepared at a much later time. .A47, .A64 The practitioner need not include in the engagement file superseded drafts of working papers, notes that reflect incomplete or preliminary thinking, previous copies of documents corrected for typographical or other errors, and duplicates of documents.

Introduction, Objectives, Definitions and Requirements	Application and Other Explanatory Material
regarding the matters in paragraph .28, the oral responses from the responsible party to the practitioner's inquiries regarding the matters in paragraph .28, in accordance with paragraph .32; and (Ref: par. .A32) iv. who reviewed the engagement workagreed-upon procedures performed and the date and extent of such review. eb. the results of the procedures performed and the evidence obtained.
	Exhibit—Illustrative Practitioner's Agreed-Upon Procedures Reports The illustrative practitioner's agreed-upon procedures reports in this exhibit meet the applicable reporting requirements in paragraphs .3326-.4129. A practitioner may use alternative language in drafting an agreed-upon procedures report, provided that the language meets the applicable requirements in paragraphs 3326-4129. Example 1 is an illustrative agreed-upon procedures report related to a Statement of Investment Performance Statistics. Examples 2-3 provide illustrations of reports in which the practitioner has applied agreed-upon procedures to elements, accounts, or items of a financial statement.
